Employment growing at A.O. Smith plant

As five additional hourly employees reported to work at the Granite City automotive frame plant of A.O. Smith Corp. this morning, the level of employment reached approximately half of what it will be when full production on the Ford Taurus line gets underway by late May or early June.

The five new workers join approximately 20 who have been hired gradually as refitting the plant has proceeded for production of the frames by late May or early June.

"THIS IS A gradual, little by little, startup. We are building slowly. By late spring, there will be 50 or 60 hourly people there for the startup of limited production," Jack M. Birchill, vice president of corporate communications for A.O. Smith told the Press-Record in a phone call from the corporate headquarters in Milwaukee, Wis., Friday.

In addition to the hourly employees, there are approximately 30 salaried persons at work at the Granite City plant, in addition to numerous persons hired by outside contractors who are building the two production lines in the plant.

Birchill said the Taurus line is virtually complete and some pilot production already has been done, on a "very limited basis."

MEANWHILE, workmen are installing a second line for production of frames for a 1986 model Dodge light truck. Production on the Chrysler line is expected to begin in October or November, Birchill said. The number of frames each line can produce is being kept secret at the customers' request, he added. After full production begins, those figures will be published weekly.

Hourly workers who reported to the plant this morning are beginning a training program.

Funding for I-255 released

Work on Interstate 255 southeast of the Quad City area, which has been tied up for several months by a funding freeze, should resume immediately.

Governor James R. Thompson has released $14,585,739 for work to resume on 1.3 miles of the interstate highway north of Collinsville, it was announced Thursday by State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City).

When the highway is completed, it will link with Interstate 270 near Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to the north and will swing south to the new I-255 bridges into south St. Louis County. There will be interchanges with Interstates 55-70 and 64.

SMOKE DETECTORS GO LIKE WILD FIRE. Granite City firefighter Dan Worthen, right, gives a free smoke detector to Samuel T. Nickell Thursday, during the second such giveaway by the city. Nearly 900 detectors have been given away or sold at cost since the inception of the new program on Feb. 15. Additional smoke detectors may be distributed by the city, but plans are tentative at this time. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

Computers to play bigger role at GC Steel—Swanson

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Realizing that computer technology will play a large part in helping domestic steel return to profitability, a $60 million capital expenditure program at Granite City Steel during 1985 will stress using computers to increase quality and productivity, William D. Swanson, vice president and general manager of Granite City Steel, said during an address before the American Iron &

Steel Engineers at the Alton Holiday Inn last week.

"It is time for Americans to reject the idiotic concept that America can be kept great by silicon chips and fast food chains; that most people can be employed in high technology so as to support the rest of the economy which will be involved in services. That is a theory with neglects the fact that the production of real goods provides the most jobs," Swanson said.

GRANITE CITY STEEL already is one of the most modern mills in the nation and uses a great deal of computer technology, but will make great strides during 1985 to upgrade the technology, and the product the mill produces, Swanson said.

"Granite City Steel has had a long history in the application of technology. It started at our 80-inch hot strip mill nearly 20 years ago when we were one of the first steel mills in the world to introduce extensive computer controls.

"Now, in 1985, the 80-inch hot strip mill is entering a new phase of technological advancement at Granite City Steel as we complete the successful startup of a new $5 million hot strip mill computer. It's a DEC VAX 11-780 that is interfaced to our existing IBM and GE systems," Swanson explained.

THE NEW SYSTEM was programmed entirely by Granite City Steel employees, "making it the largest in-house programming effort of its type ever attempted, according to our sources. We had five programmers dedicated to this task for more than two years.

"I believe this type of expertise is yet a further indication of the 'high tech' revolution that is occurring in our industry. Only a few years ago, I doubt that such capabilities would have existed in any steel mill in this country," Swanson continued.

The new hot strip computer controls production functions from the time slabs are put into the furnace until they move down the conveyor as hot rolled bands. The computer monitors the width and thickness of the steel through each step, controlling the temperature and speed of the steel, determining the amount of water to be sprayed on it and the amount of pressure from the rollers to keep the shape of the steel cons-

Don Weber is 'grilled' by F. Lee Bailey

Former Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber was on the witness stand for more than two hours Thursday as Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill heard arguments on motions to dismiss a murder indictment and move the trial of Barbara Gusewelle Boyle out of Madison County. O'Neill will rule later on the motions.

Mrs. Boyle's attorney, F. Lee Bailey, accused Weber of "prosecutorial misconduct" in the manner in which he presented the case to a grand jury.

A GRAND JURY indicted Mrs. Boyle last August on charges of murdering her husband, Ronald Gusewelle, in March 1979, and his parents, Arthur and Vernita Gusewelle, at their rural Edwardsville home in November 1977.

Also charged with the murders are Dr. Glennon E. Engleman and Robert Handy, who allegedly participated in a murder-for-profit scheme in which the Gusewelles became available to the three could share the insurance and inheritance money.

Under questioning by Bailey, Weber denied that he improperly tried to influence the grand jury which indicted Mrs. Boyle. Specifically, Bailey contended that Weber "misused" the grand jury and questioned Weber's "conduct in the manner in which Mrs. Boyle was returned from Florida."

MRS. BOYLE was arrested in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., after federal mail fraud indictments were returned against her. That action, the motion states, denied Mrs. Boyle her right to an extradition hearing.

Bailey charged that the federal indictment was returned "with the understanding that it would never be pursued." The indictment was later dropped.

He also based his motion to dismiss on the pre-indictment delay, noting the interim between the alleged murders and the return of the indictment against Mrs. Boyle.

ON THE QUESTION of the pre-indictment delay, Bailey asked Weber when co-defendant Handy's testimony about the Gusewelle killings became available to the state's attorney's office. Weber answered that he didn't see a file on the case until June or July 1981, when the sheriff's office brought over the file and said that I should take a look at it." Weber said material in the file implicated Handy, Mrs. Boyle and Engleman.

Bailey also questioned Weber about statements he allegedly made to the grand jury foreman and grand jurors at luncheons outside of the grand jury room.

Weber admitted that he had mentioned the Gusewelle case at luncheons, but that he did not think his statements influenced the grand jury.

WEBER ALSO denied that he had discussed facts of the case in private conversations with grand jurors. As to the presentation of a slide show, which included a photograph of the Arthur and Vernita Gusewelle home, to the grand jury, Weber contended that the show was informative as to the investigative methods used in solving crimes in Madison County. The slide of the Gusewelle home, he added, was later removed from the presentation.

The defense, in its argument to move the trial because of publicity, called William Gaffin of Maritz Market Research to the witness stand. Gaffin said that in a poll of 400 Madison County residents, 66.4 percent said they were aware of the case and 39.3 percent believed that Mrs. Boyle was probably guilty.

O'NEILL HAS taken the defense motions under advisement.

IP promotes Mathias

Carl E. Mathias, service area manager of Illinois Power in Granite City, has been promoted to assistant vice president of the company and L. Ronald Daine, who held the same position in Danville, has been promoted to Granite City service area manager, it was announced Friday.

Mathias' promotion, approved by the IP board of directors, was effective Friday and Daine will assume his new position April 1.

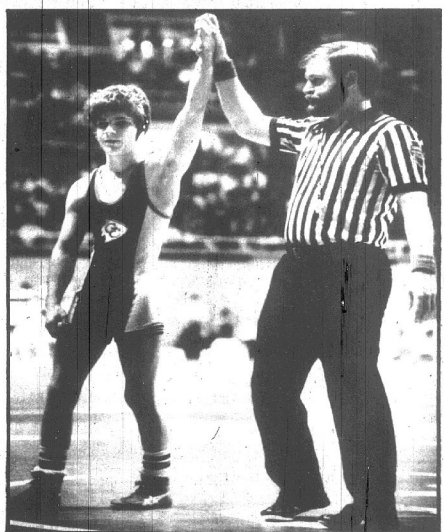

MATHIAS WILL remain in the Granite City area and will continue to report to William E. Warren, senior vice president. According to IP Chairman and President Wendell J. Kelley, "In his new position, Mr. Mathias will continue to have overall responsibility for all activities in the Granite City service area and, in addition, will be responsible for coordinating all economic development activity throughout Southwestern Illinois."

Mathias has been an active promoter of this area and has worked, with numerous organizations in assisting the economic development of the entire St. Louis region. He has served on the board and the executive committee of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association, a bi-state organization to foster development in the entire region.

He also was instrumental in crea-

Maxvill is Card's GM

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

of the Press-Record

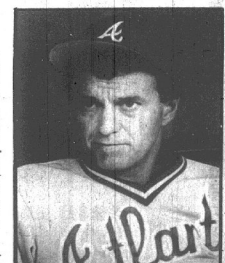

Charles Dallan Maxvill, 46, formerly of Granite City, was named the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals' new general manager at a press conference today in St. Louis.

"Dal," as he is known throughout the National League and who was a star infielder for the Cardinals during the 1964 and 1967 World Series, returns to the Cardinal organization by way of the Atlanta Braves. For the last several seasons, Maxvill has been on the Braves' coaching staff, serving with former Redbird teammates Joe Torre, manager, and Bob Gibson, pitching coach.

MAXVILL WAS the only former Redbird on Atlanta's coaching staff who survived a team shakeup following the Braves' disappointing showing in 1984. He was expected to be the backbone of the Cardinal staff for the coming season.

The announcement of Maxvill's acceptance of the Cardinals' general manager's position is, reportedly, somewhat of a surprise to the Braves' organization.

Cardinal Manager Whitely Herzog stated early this morning, following the announcement, that he is "real happy with Maxvill's selection to the GM's position. And," said Herzog,

DAL MAXVILL

"It's a fine choice and I'm looking forward to working with Maxie."

MAXVILL, a favorite with Granite City Little Leaguers, frequently returns to his home town for benefits and fundraisers.

Just last summer, to show his appreciation for all of Maxvill's continued support of the Wilson Park baseball programs, the park district named a field after him. Maxvill and his wife, Diana, have three sons and a daughter.

Coalition seeks convenient emissions testing

A coalition of statewide associations and private sector companies called Illinois Drivers for an Equitable Auto-testing Law (IDEAL) has been formed to urge amendment of Illinois' new emissions testing program, making it less onerous for driver in the Chicago and East St. Louis areas.

According to Coalition Coordinator Paul Neal, "Inherent in the law as passed last July is an unreasonable amount of inconvenience to consumers and an unrealistic plan for program financing. The coalition, he says, "will focus on seeking a more equitable solution to the method and means of conducting the mandatory emissions testing program."

The controversial legislation was passed under pressure from the Federal Environmental Protection Agency and signed begrudgingly by Governor Thompson in an effort to protect $100 million annually in federal highway funds threatened by non-compliance with federal clean air laws.

While mandatory auto emissions testing is now state law, several points contributing to difficulty in passage of the legislation last year are expected to surface again during the legislature's spring session.

The two primary issues of concern to the IDEAL coalition are: That consumers be given the option of going either to centralized testing lanes run by the state or to their local garages and car repair centers for one-stop testing and repair, and whether the one-cent per gallon gasoline tax due to go into effect this summer will be used for new roads and repairs, as originally allocated, or be diverted to fund a centralized testing program.

"The inconvenience to consumers of waiting in long lines at centralized testing lanes located up to 12 miles from home, having to take their car to another location for repairs and returning to the centralized lanes for retesting, argues strongly for a decentralized option," says Neal.

The IDEAL coalition, he says, also is opposed to the "hidden tax." Neal cites legislation passed several years ago increasing the gasoline tax by 2½-cents for a comprehensive staged road building and street repair program. "The last one-cent of that increase is due to go into effect July 1, but it will now be diverted to pay for the auto emissions testing program and not for roads. That is simply unfair to Illinois motorists."

Hanna Mining backs Bergen merger

The Hanna Mining Company (NYSE:HNM), which owns more than five percent of the outstanding stock of National Intergroup, Inc. (NII), announced Friday that it currently plans to support the proposed merger between NII and Bergen Brunswig Corporation when the agreement goes before stockholders of the two firms for approval on March 7.

"We've reviewed the NII/Bergen Brunswig proxy as well as proxy materials issued by opponents of the merger has merit and will benefit NII's stockholders," said Robert F. Anderson, Hanna chairman.

Last October, Pittsburgh-based NII and Bergen Brunswig of Los Angeles jointly announced a merger agreement that would create a new concern called Bergen National Corporation. Operations of the new corporation will include pharmaceutical, medical, consumer electronics, and metals distribution; steel and aluminum production, and financial services.

Fish for stocking ponds offered

The Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) will sponsor a fish sale for those wanting to stock their ponds. These are pond-grown fish: channel catfish, 4 to 6 inches at 22-cents; 6 to 8 inches at 32-cents, and 8 to 10 inches at 52-cents. Hybrid bluegill, 1 to 2 inches at 45¢ per bag of 250, and 3 to 5 inches at 37-cents. Bass, 2 to 3 inches at 32-cents each. There is a minimum order of $15.

The catfish, bluegill, and the large bass will be delivered to the SWCD Office parking lot on Old Alton Road in Edwardsville on April 23, at 2 p.m. The small bass will be delivered in early June.

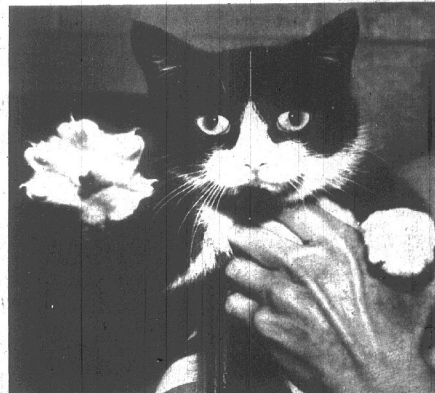

Fish must be ordered in advance and District Chairman Melvin Balsters requests early reservations, since quantities are limited.

Containers of pond-water are needed for transporting the catfish, bass and 3 to 5 inch bluegill. The 1 to 2 inch bluegill will be bagged. Purchasers should allow one gallon of water for each four to six fish.

Orders must be placed before April 19, by calling 1-656-5166, or mailing orders to Post Office Box 482, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025, or stopping by the Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District Office.

WARRANT IS SERVED

David L. Smith, 27, of 2529 Lynch Ave., stopped for allegedly speeding in the 2100 block of Madison Avenue at 11:30 a.m. Thursday also was served a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a retail theft charge. He also was charged with speeding.

Class in indian beadworking to be taught at the Mounds

Mary Jane Vogler, a master of traditional Indian beadworking, will be teaching a two day Indian bead class, Saturday and Sunday, March 9 and 10, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Cahokia Mound Museum.

Mary Jane, a Cherokee, has shown her beadwork at the St. Louis Art Museum, Indian Pow Wows, rendezvous, and other heritage events. She has given talks to many schools and organizations about Indian heritage and beads. Her bead and porcupine quill classes in the past have been well received at Cahokia Mounds.

In this two-day bead class, the application of beads will be taught. The students will learn loom, applique, rosette and lazy stitch. More elaborate stitches for example the peyote, will be taught if there is time.

Students are asked to bring the following: beading needles and seed beads (seed beads will be sold in class), nylon thread A&D or very fine and coarse cotton or polyester, scissors, bee's wax, soft leather (1 sq. ft.), pelon medium thickness (1 sq. ft.), graph paper and colored pencils and thumbtacks.

Tuition is $25 and is due by March 2. A 10 percent discount to Cahokia Mounds Museum Society members and Cahokia Mounds volunteers will be deducted at time of payment.

Seats are added for Pavarotti concert

The Saint Vincent Pallotti Center, the Saint Mary's School for exceptional Children and the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra officials have announced that because of demand for the Luciano Pavarotti concert March 21, additional tickets will be made available for sale to the side and rear of the stage.

Seating in front of the orchestra, which will be performing at the closed end of the arena, is limited and a decision was made that additional tickets will be sold to the side and rear of the stage. These seats will be priced at $25.

Additionally, the sound system which will be used for the concert was designed by Pavarotti's recording engineer and will be suspended throughout the arena ceiling area to ensure quality sound reproduction throughout the arena.

Reservations and purchase of Pavarotti tickets can be arranged by calling Powell Symphony Hall's Box Office at 1-314-534-1700.

Missourian sent to county jail

A mittimus was issued and Tony C. Sellers, 17, of Lemay, Mo., was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville last week, following a court appearance in Granite City.

An officer saw Sellers walking in the 2400 block of Kirkpatrick Homes and alleged the youth threw a can of beer into the air and ran into an apartment.

Sellers allegedly tried to get out the front door of the apartment and began swinging at the officer, trying to hit him, reports said. A struggle ensued into the front yard and street, resulting in both the officer and Sellers falling onto the muddy ground.

After being handcuffed, Sellers was charged with aggravated assault and resisting arrest. He also was booked on active warrants alleging failure to appear in court on a curfew violation and failure to pay the fine on a charge of not having a valid driver's license.

He pleaded innocent to all charges in the count appearance and bail was set at $500 prior to a judge issuing a mittimus.

Support NII's merger plans

Officials of National Intergrupp Inc. (NII), parent company of Granite City Steel, are playing hardball in attempting to keep Leucadia from seizing control of NII in special stockholder voting March 7 in Pittsburgh.

In a five-page statement express mailed to all stockholders this weekend, Howard M. "Pete" Love, chairman and chief executive officer of NII, reveals some questionable practices by Leucadia and its officers, including Chairman I.M. Cumming. The statement by Love alleges that in June 1984 federal jury handed down at $4.5 million verdict against Cumming for allegedly breaching his duty of confidential relationship in connection with his acquisition of a controlling portion of Leucadia. The jury award was paid by Leucadia and the breach of fiduciary duty claim was dismissed.

Love also points out that in December 1982, Leucadia acquired Terracon, a company involved in real estate and related activities, of which Cumming was chairman and president. Terracon was in Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings since 1981. Love alleges "...the claims were, among other things, that Mr. Cumming breached his fiduciary duty to Terracon and that Mr. Steinberg (president of Leucadia) conspired with Mr. Cumming to breach that duty."

Love quotes the Arkansas Insurance Commissioner in another case as saying, "...Leucadia seems very desperate to get their hands on the assets of the Arkansas Companies...Leucadia has done nothing except interfere with the rehabilitation process in their seemingly never-ending pursuit of profit..."

Love questions Leucadia's figures on the effect of the sale to stockholders and states that $1.50 per share Leucadia quotes "would not exist without the merger."

The statement also warns stockholders, "You should question whether Leucadia really believes that rejecting the merger is in your best interest, or whether it wants to defeat the merger so it can get control of National Intergrupp or one of its businesses for reasons unrelated to your interests. After all, Leucadia first became a stockholder of National Intergrupp on Oct. 5, 1984—AFTER the National-Bergen Brunswick merger was announced."

At the Press-Record, we are not stock experts—nor do we claim expertise in big business—but it is clear that for Love to take such a drastic and unprecedented step as to issue a statement derogatory of some stockholders, there must be a serious challenge afoot.

Under NII and its current leadership, Granite City Steel continues to grow and become stronger. The partnership between NII and Nippon Kokan K.K. seems, to us, to be a good one for the mill here.

Under an unfriendly takeover, such as the Leucadia proposal, Nippon Kokan has the option of backing out of its merger with NII. We would not like to see that happen.

We believe that for NII and Love to take such drastic steps, the support of all stockholders here is needed badly. We join with Love, speaking on behalf of the entire NII Board of Directors, when he says to stockholders, "We continue to recommend your approval and strongly urge you to vote for the merger by signing, dating and mailing (your) proxy promptly."

Re-evaluate military pensions

The average retirement age in the military is 42. Paying millions of retirees who are far from decrepit another 20 or 30 years while they are well able to earn good pay for the private sector costs the federal government billions and contributes to the deficit.

It brought a much criticized outburst from David Stockman, director of Office of Budget and Management. There are cries to do something about it.

One is a freeze on all government retirement payments for a year. That might be a temporary Band-Aid solution but something more is needed.

Sen. Paul Simon, ever the thoughtful legislator, wants Congress to fix the problem permanently. He acknowledges it would be unfair to take away benefits from people who were promised them. But he wants to raise the retirement years of service from 20 to 25 or even to 30.

In this age when the military is increasingly chair-borne, it is inconceivable that there wouldn't be many tasks that could be done very well by a 50-year-old 30-year serviceman.

Paul Simon's hero, the late Sen. Paul Douglas, earned a bronze star at the age of 53. He was a Marine lieutenant-colonel, a commander at Peliliu and Okinawa, at an age when most of today's 20-year veterans are retired, on military pensions, and earning good money on jobs in civilian life for which their military training qualified them.

Concrete plant zoning in limbo

By JIM WOODCOCK

Two complex questions kept the Madison County board last week from making a decision on rezoning a tract of land to allow a concrete plant on Route 157 near State Road 35.

Those questions are:

—Did the county board have the necessary amount of votes when it voted against the rezoning?

—Did the Zoning Board of Appeals make a legal recommendation in January that the county board approve rezoning for the concrete plant?

THOSE QUESTIONS will be resolved later by the state's attorney's office. Until then, the request from Robert and Joy Kosten to have their 10-acre tract rezoned from agriculture to M-3 (heavy industrial) is in limbo.

The topic of rezoning provided about 30 minutes of controversy and confusion on the county board floor. The county board room was filled to capacity with residents who live near the site where Upchurch Ready-Mix Concrete of Dupu wants to put its plant. Many of the residents had signed a petition opposing the plant.

The plant would supply concrete to the nearby Interstate 255 project. COUNTY BOARD MEMBER Nick Hamilos, Glen Carbon, spoke at length, urging his colleagues to vote against the Zoning Board of Appeals' recommendation for the rezoning.

Hamilos said he had letters opposing rezoning from Collinsville Mayor Gene Brombolich, Collinsville Township Supervisor Terry "Bones" Allan and State Rep. Ron Stephens.

Also, Hamilos had a petition signed by 55 residents who oppose rezoning. Hamilos was supported by Fred Dalton, Collinsville; Alan Dunstan, Troy and Harold Byers, Highland.

FRANK VIVOD, Collinsville, led the effort supporting rezoning. Vivod said a concrete plant would be good for the site, which he called "nothing but a swamp."

Vivod also told residents in attendance he didn't care if they campaigned against him in the next election because of his stance on the issue.

After several speeches from other members, the county board voted 18-6 to overrule the zoning board. There were four board members absent.

VOTING in favor of rezoning were Vivod, Homer Henke, Moro, Charles Edwards, Jr., and Herbert "Junior" Milton, Vasil E. Timoff and William Webb, all of Granite City.

County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City, said it takes a three-fourths majority vote to override a recommendation by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

However, the board was uncertain whether the three-fourths rule pertains only to those members in attendance or to the entire membership of the county board.

THE 18-6 VOTE was clearly a three-fourths majority of the members present. However, Hagnauer said the rule may apply to the entire membership.

There are 28 voting members of the county board, plus Hagnauer in the case of ties. If the rule is based on 28 votes, 21 votes against rezoning would have been needed to override the zoning board's recommendation.

A discussion regarding the rule barely got started when Hamilos and Dalton said the entire recommendation of the zoning board of appeals was void on a technicality.

DALTON POINTED out that a member of the zoning board had made a motion to deny the Kosten's rezoning petition. The motion was defeated 5-2.

The zoning board had said the petition for rezoning was thereby approved.

Jim Heil, attorney for several landowners opposing the concrete plant, said in a letter to board members that there should have been a motion to approve rezoning.

Heil said Illinois statutes and county ordinances stipulate there must be five affirmative votes to pass a motion on rezoning.

"A MOTION to deny, which is defeated, is not automatically an affirmative vote for approval," he said.

Assistant State's Attorney Dan O'Neill hinted it may be some time before he issues an opinion.

Dalton said the county could also recognize an amendment to its zoning ordinance that would protect the area from rezoning.

The amendment says when a protest against rezoning is properly filed, a recommendation for rezoning needs approval from three-fourths of the county board instead of from a simple majority.

THREE landowners recently filed protests against rezoning in the county clerk's office.

"But even without the amendment, I think there's enough to deny rezoning," Dalton said.

IP declares dividends

Illinois Power Company has announced the 151st consecutive quarterly dividend on its common stock. The action was taken by the firm's board of directors, which declared a dividend of 66-cents per share on the common stock of the company.

The board also declared regular quarterly dividends of 61-cents per share on the 4.08 percent cumulative preferred stock, 52½-cents per share on the 4.20 percent cumulative preferred stock, 53½-cents per share on the 4.26 percent cumulative preferred stock, 55½-cents per share on the 4.42 percent cumulative preferred stock, 58½-cents per share on the 4.70 percent cumulative preferred stock, $1.03 per share on the 8.24 percent cumulative preferred stock, 94½-cents per share on the 7.56 percent cumulative preferred stock, $1.11½ per share on the 8.94 percent cumulative preferred stock, $1.00 per share on the 8 percent cumulative preferred stock, $1.45½ per share on the 11.66 percent cumulative preferred stock, $1.46½ per share on the 11.75 percent cumulative preferred stock.

The board also declared a dividend of $1.0438 per share on the Adjustable Rate Preferred Stock. These dividends are all payable May 1, 1985, to stockholders of record on April 10, 1985.

Local Election

With candidate signs popping up all over the city, it's a constant reminder that a city election is about six weeks away. People shopping at Crossroads Plaza Sunday were asked if they thought situations — the local economy — were strong enough that incumbents would retain office. Their reactions follow:

Gordon Webb, Granite City

"I've just recently moved to Granite City, so I really don't know the city yet. But I guess things are okay, at least from what I can see. The government seems alright, they'll probably stay."

Mary McKee, Granite City

"I think they'll probably retain their seats, but regardless, there'll have to be a change. Most definitely a change. If they don't, they'll be some new people with some new ideas, progressive people in there instead. Government needs innovative people. I've lived here all my life, I hope things will begin to change."

Richard Montague, Granite City

"It's time for a change. I just think things could be better than they are in this town. Industry, sewers, a lot of things. There's a lot that the government could be doing."

Beth Rigbsy, Granite City

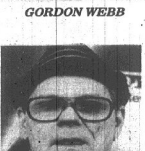

"I'm not a voter, but I think they'll (incumbents) be voted out. It's because of the economy. I really think things could be better here than they are. This area needs some new jobs."

APA responds to letter: explains policy

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to the "Child and Animal Lover" who wrote that her daughter was refused a kitten by the APA.

"First of all, the APA policy does not prohibit any child from having a pet. The APA does, however, have the responsibility of placing animals in the best home possible. It is our belief that most very young children (the little girl mentioned in the letter was approximately 20 months old, according to the shelter's adoption list) are unaware of the innocent harm they can do to tiny animals. Our proposed policy restricts adoption of kittens under the age of 12 weeks to children under the age of 7."

After many years of experience in the area of animal care, this rule was proposed. No rule is made to single out any one individual. Even the "Child and Animal Lover" author would admit that 15-year-old children are not allowed to drive a car just because they are assumed to be reckless or negligent at that age.

The APA shelter is certainly not the only place a kitten could be obtained. The city's humane shelter, shelters in Collinsville and Alton, the Humane Society of Missouri, the Willow Walk Cattery and this paper's ads all make kittens available to the public.

I also disagree with the statement that "Older cats and young children do not mix unless raised together." Small kittens are very often more active and less interested in being held and cuddled. Kittens can inflict quite painful scratches. We must consider what the animal might do to a child so small. I have an "older" cat and he is very gentle and patient with small children who visit my home.

Also, all persons working at the shelter are unpaid volunteers who are there seven days a week, 365 days a year, for one purpose — to see that as many animals as possible are safe, fed and placed in a good home. No volunteer would intentionally be "hateful" over the phone.

The APA regrets anyone is displeased with something that has been so hard to establish — especially when we operate almost solely from private donations. We do, however, as the editor noted, question persons coming to the shelter as to the ages of their children, and other pertinent information that would benefit both pet and owner. Children's ages are on the adoption form.

We are proud of our shelter and the opportunity to serve the Quad City area. We are grateful for the help of our supporters. But we will continue to do what we believe is in the best interests of both public and pets.

Our shelter was inspected this week by the state of Illinois and found to be deemed "excellent" in every way. We invite those who are critical to volunteer their time to better help and understand what we are trying to do.

THE APA OF GRANITE CITY

Thinks, 'why now?'

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter concerning the election April 2nd. If anyone has noticed, all of a sudden certain people running for office in this city are bringing up things that should have come up long ago. At the city council meeting Feb. 5th, one of the aldermen brought up the old idea of a more effective means to control rental properties and conditions of the residences in this city. Why now? Why not before this? Is it because now there is an election to be contested?

The paving of Missouri Avenue suddenly appears before the public; removing the parking meters in downtown suddenly pops up again. Is this not playing everything now to favor themselves for re-election?

I think these and many other things should have come up long before now for consideration. Just what was done in the last four years and do we have a firm enough building code ordinance in this community? If not, it should have been taken care of before now and it should be done up as much as to be abused by whomever is in office at any particular time.

I think now you are going to see many things start happening to try and sway the public to the side of the incumbent, but remember, whoever is elected will be there for four years, and we the voters must live with it.

Prosecutor asks that charges against Weber be reinstated

A special prosecutor handling allegations against former Madison County state's attorney Don Weber argued in the Fifth District Appellate Court Thursday that charges of official misconduct by Weber that were dismissed last June should be reinstated.

Special State's Attorney Paul C.

Verticchio argued that Weber attempted to time grand jury indictments against other county officials as a means to help his re-election chances. Jersey County Circuit Judge Howard Lee While dismissed the official misconduct charges against Weber last June, ruling that Weber had not exceeded his lawful authority.

Defending Weber at Thursday's hearing was attorney Donald Groshong, who argued that obtaining indictments is clearly one of the duties of a state's attorney and he contended Weber had broken no law. Appellate Justice George W. Kasserman, who heard the arguments, is expected to rule in the near future.

Madison officials prepare for upcoming negotiations

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Madison School Board members Billie Bosworth and Edward Dohal have been chosen to represent the school board during the upcoming contract negotiations with the Madison Federation of Teachers' Local 763.

During a school board meeting Thursday night, a letter from the labor group asked that a meeting date be set up between the board committee and the union for the purpose of "setting dates for meetings, agreeing on procedures and an informal exchange of desired general changes in existing agreement."

MRS. BOSWORTH said she and Dohal tentatively plan to meet with the union representatives at 6:30 p.m. today.

The school district currently has a three-year contract with the teachers' group, and some school officials have indicated that they would prefer to continue the policy of a multi-year, instead of a single-year, contract.

In other action Thursday night, the board adopted a resolution regarding its policy of notifying some teachers that they may not be rehired next year. The board also set a hearing on the policy for 7 p.m. March 21.

IF THE DISTRICT fails to dismiss those teachers 60 days before the end of the current school year, those teachers are automatically rehired for the next year.

Madison School Superintendent John Palchick explains that the policy and "honorable dismissal" of some teachers who still may be rehired next year is necessary to allow time for school officials to determine staffing needs for the next school year.

Palchick informed the board that a lawsuit filed against the district by former school employee Ben Honorable in 1978 has been dismissed by the court because Honorable has failed to pursue the case.

HONORABLE FILED the suit for reinstatement after school officials determined that he could not continue as a school custodian since he had moved outside of the school district. School policy requires that employees of the district reside within the district.

In personnel matters, the board hired Barbara Vrabec as a clerk at Louis Baer School, but tabled the hiring of a new custodian.

Other matters receiving the board's consideration follow.

The board approved a request to send Chapter 1 personnel to a statewide conference in Chicago. Assistant Superintendent Wade James reported that funds have been budgeted for the trip.

Also approved was a request from Curriculum Director Dolores Folkerts asking that the school system be allowed to join the Mississippi Valley Writing Project for a fee of $100. The school system belonged to the program last year, she said.

Three bids for magazines and five bids for first aid supplies were opened and referred to staff for tabulation and evaluation.

The board referred to Mrs. Folkerts a request from parents of gifted children in the Madison School District asking that they be allowed to form an organization to support the gifted program. The group wants to meet at 7 p.m. today in the Harris School gymnasium to elect officers and plan guidelines for the organization.

Palchick reminded board members of the Illinois Association of School Boards conference and dinner March 4 in Edwardsville.

The board agreed to let the Madison Parents' Club sell candy bars in March.

Permission was also granted to the River Bluff Girl Scout Council to distribute recruitment fliers March 4 to first through sixth grade girls.

The flyer will notify the girls of the Sports and More program offered to girls who are not currently in a Girl Scout troop. The event is slated for 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. March 9 at New Salem Baptist Church in Venice.

The high school band students were granted permission to sell candy during the first week of March. The board also decided to conduct a student hearing prior to the next regular board meeting March 7. The hearing will be conducted at 6:30 p.m., with the regular meeting to start at 7:30 p.m.

MAN SERVED WARRANT

William John Carpenter, 27, of Charleston, S.C., was arrested by Madison police last week at the intersection of Sixth Street and Madison Avenue and served with a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on an allegation of driving with a revoked driver's license. He was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Unlawful restraint conviction leads to 3 years in prison

Jerry McCabe of 3930 Central Lane has been sentenced to serve three years in prison and ordered to pay $50 in court costs after a Jan. 21 conviction on unlawful restraint charges.

McCabe originally was charged with rape on March 16, 1984, when Ponton Beach police arrested him after receiving a rape report on March 15 from a woman living in the Cottonwood Trailer Park.

In July 1980, McCabe pleaded guilty in Titusville, Fla., to one count of grand theft, and at that time faced up to five years in prison. The plea, which was part of a plea bargaining agreement, dismissed charges of sexual battery, kidnapping, burglary and robbery.

McCabe was convicted of rape in Madison County in 1978 for the Feb. 27 rape of a 20-year-old woman in the parking lot of Granite City High School South, but won a new trial on a technicality. He was acquitted when the victim's ability to identify him as the attacker was questioned.

GC man sentenced to four months in jail

A 17-year-old Granite City man was sentenced Friday to serve four months in the Madison County Jail after pleading guilty to traffic charges, including attempting to elude a police officer, failure to possess a valid driver's license, driving the wrong way on a one-way street and disobeying a traffic control device.

Orville E. Copeland Jr., of 2121 Iowa St., appeared in court after Granite City police arrested him Thursday night.

The judge also authorized the issuance of a mittimus in relation to a felony theft charge, regarding the alleged burglary of a motorcycle he was driving at the time of the traffic violations. A court date on this charge is pending.

Warrants alleging criminal trespass to a motor vehicle and a city charge of theft also were served on Copeland. The fines for these offenses were stayed.

$500 IN PARTS GONE

Marvin Waggoner of 4 McCasland Ave., Madison, told police at 3:30 p.m. Thursday that someone removed a new set of lift truck forks from under a storage trailer on the north side of his lot. The lifts were valued at $500.

Granite City man to serve six-month jail term for DUI

Jimmy L. Creek of Granite City has lost an appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court and will have to serve a six-month jail sentence after a conviction of driving while intoxicated. The ruling comes six years after Creek's involvement in a November 1978 automobile crash which killed Pay Agnes Lee, 64, of Ponton Beach.

Another conviction on a grand jury indictment of reckless homicide was overturned by the Supreme Court in January 1983.

Creek's long journey through the court system began on Nov. 19, 1978, when it was alleged that Creek's westbound car collided with an eastbound auto on Route 162 a half-mile east of State Aid Route 35. Mrs. Lee, a passenger in the eastbound vehicle, was fatally injured in the crash.

Creek was charged with reckless homicide, but the charge was dismissed in January 1979 when the Illinois State Police failed to send a trooper to preliminary hearings two weeks apart, officials alleged.

A month later, a Madison County grand jury indicted Creek on charges of reckless homicide and driving while intoxicated.

After various delays and motions, during which time Creek was convicted of the reckless homicide and driving while intoxicated charges, the Supreme Court ruled that the Author to autograph book at Jacob's Well

Doris Gvillo of Edwardsville will be at Jacob's Well Family Bookstore, 3718 N. Namekiki Road, March 2 from 2 to 4 p.m. to autograph copies of her book, "Musings, Meditations and Meanderings."

Mrs. Gvillo has drawn on her experiences as a farmer's wife, mother, grandmother and church worker, as well as a 4-H leader and shares them in a down to earth sometimes humorous style, according to Deborah Headrick, bookstore owner.

The public is being invited to attend the event and for more information those interested are advised to contact the store at 676-1505.

scale cars which supply raw materials to the blast furnace. The blast furnace control parameters will be monitored by a distributed process control system.

"Also, each blast furnace will have a supervisory computer which will be linked to the process control system, the scale car system and to an 'area level computer.' This area computer will be placed in the ironmaking area and will provide the communications to all levels of our growing computer hierarchy," Swanson explained.

"ON THE steelmaking side, a new 'ladle metallurgy station' will contain a supervisory level computer and will pass control information into a programmable logic controller. Again, this computer will be integrated into our growing network."

"All analytical devices now connected to the BOF computer will be connected with the area level computer, as will most of the CRTs (cathode ray tube displays for terminals) and the caster computers. "In the finishing area, a computer will be used for cold mill shape control, cold mill control, cold mill bending, screw positioning, interstrand tension and cooling water to provide a flat product," Swanson added.

COMPUTER TECHNOLOGY alone will not solve all the problems facing the domestic steel industry, however, Swanson warned the engineers.

BY MARCH 27, the control computer will be in control of the new LBE (low-blow equipment) which will blow inert gases into the bottom of the BOF vessels to better mix the steel during an oxygen blow and produce a better grade of steel. The computer will adjust the height of the oxygen lance, the top oxygen flow rates and the bottom gas flow rates. "All of this is aimed at greater efficiency and productivity in the process," Swanson said.

Two optical emission spectrometers, three carbon-sulfur analyzers, a nitrogen-oxygen analyzer, two liquid steel oxygen analyzers and two steel temperature measuring probes are linked to the laboratory analytical devices and all analysis made are stored in the computer.

THE CONTINUOUS CASTER, which casts approximately 65 percent of the steel made here, also relies on computers. It is controlled by a digital PDP 11-34, which is being upgraded now to an 11-44 model. The computer is linked to 16 terminals and monitors mold cooling and external casters, secondary spray cooling, Swanson said.

The computer's use is being expanded to assign automatic internal and external casters to major slabs cast to allow the upgrading or downgrading of a slab before it is cut. This will improve our ability to meet the changing needs of the customer's needs as it is produced and, therefore, increase our performance in critical applications," Swanson said.

It is hoped that the efficiencies of the continuous slab caster and its computer control can be expanded to the mill. "Our goal is to reach the 100 percent of all steel produced here done by the continuous slab caster. This is achieved by some Japanese mills and many of the newer steel mills around the world," he added.

IN THE FUTURE plans are to further computerize the mill, "all of which will, I believe, improve our competitive position."

In the ironmaking area, we will use a micro-computer to control the scale cars which supply raw materials to the blast furnace. The blast furnace control parameters will be monitored by a distributed process control system.

"Also, each blast furnace will have a supervisory computer which will be linked to the process control system, the scale car system and to an 'area level computer.' This area computer will be placed in the ironmaking area and will provide the communications to all levels of our growing computer hierarchy," Swanson explained.

"ON THE steelmaking side, a new 'ladle metallurgy station' will contain a supervisory level computer and will pass control information into a programmable logic controller. Again, this computer will be integrated into our growing network."

"All analytical devices now connected to the BOF computer will be connected with the area level computer, as will most of the CRTs (cathode ray tube displays for terminals) and the caster computers.

"In the finishing area, a computer will be used for cold mill shape control, cold mill control, cold mill bending, screw positioning, interstrand tension and cooling water to provide a flat product," Swanson added.

COMPUTER TECHNOLOGY alone will not solve all the problems facing the domestic steel industry, however, Swanson warned the engineers.

"At Granite City Steel, we will continue to rely greatly upon the expertise of our people. As I mentioned earlier, our programming for the hot strip mill computer was done entirely in-house, making it, as nearly as we can tell, the largest job of its kind," he said.

"Another example of how we rely on people is our newly-created Operations Technology Department," he said. Major duties of the new department will include development of standard operating procedures (SOPs) for each unit, installing statistical process and quality control methods and developing process improvement through technical problem solving, Swanson explained.

TECHNOLOGY TEAMS will be involved with improving all processes and members of the teams will be highly-qualified engineers who will study deficiencies and formulate solutions. SOPs then will be modified to include these improvements.

"If all works as it should, we develop an upward spiral in quality and productivity," he said. "The program has just gotten underway. We expect to finish SOPs on four major units this year and complete SOPs on all major units in three years. During 1985, we expect to have 20 people working in Operations Technology," he added.

THE IMPACTATION of process control resulting from this group are tremendous. Measuring the key control variables and charting them in the statistical process procedure may initially be manual. The long run, however, we must develop computer devices to measure the key variables, tie them to computers and computerize the monitoring of these key variables. Furthermore, computerization of the SOPs will be essential in order to visually present them to the operators as they are performing the process. This is a huge challenge," he added.

Nippon Kokan K.K., half owner of National Steel Corp., parent company of Granite City Steel, is a world leader in many areas of technology and should assist Granite City in further controlling its operations.

"While we are only now beginning to explore some of the areas of potential cooperation with our new Japanese partner, I am confident that we will benefit tremendously from their knowledge. It will be a major responsibility of the Operations Technology Department to work hand-in-hand with Kokan and transfer what is learned throughout our operations," Swanson explained.

"WE AT NATIONAL are already one of this nation's most modern steel producers and we're committed to the pace of the technological advancements. Because of this, I have urged that the policy makers, the public and steel analysts consider what I believe to be a natural relationship between the so-called high-tech industries and the smokelack industries. Perhaps, the definition of a high-tech industry is ready for some broadening."

"Technology alone, of course, cannot be the answer, but it must be a major contributor to an attack on the problems of quality and costs which besieged the steel industry in recent years."

"For this to happen, the steel industry itself must be willing to use the tools of technology rather than rely solely on the degree of work hand-in-hand with Kokan and transfer what is learned throughout our operations," Swanson explained.

"BECAUSE OF that, I hope that steel-of which I am proud to be a part—can capitalize on the technological opportunities which await it. For most steel firms, survival will depend upon the degree to which they become a customer-oriented producer of consistently high-quality competitively-priced steel. This is the challenge at Granite City Steel and at National Steel Corporation," Swanson added.

He concluded, "Speaking for Granite City Steel and National Steel, I believe that technology must play a vital role in helping us get there, and our success can be a part of the historical reshaping of one of the great industries of this country—an industry without which America cannot be great."

Charged with attempted burglary

Two Granite City men were charged with attempted burglary Thursday afternoon when police allegedly caught the pair trying to break into the office of Ernie's Amoco Station, 2327 Washington Ave.

The police were called to the scene, arrived with their headlights on. The two men observed the police cars and ran off foot towards the south side of the building.

During the pursuit, police allegedly observed Milosevich drop a screwdriver. Milosevich was caught by police at the southwest corner of the service station. Fernandez was caught near the alley behind the station.

It also was noted that officers found pry marks on the front door of the office. They also found a second screwdriver, similar to the one Milosevich allegedly dropped. Both men were transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

Jack M. Milosevich, 37, of 2857 Benton Ave. The arrest occurred at 8:05 p.m. Thursday.

Ends 38 Years Of Coaching

The final 'last' for GCHS' Bill 'Red' Schmitt

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

The first of a series of "lasts" began last week for Bill "Red" Schmitt, Granite City High School's wrestling coach.

On Saturday, Feb. 16, Schmitt coached in his last home dual home meet, a sectional pairing with Springfield Southeast.

Then last Wednesday, as he was preparing his three grapplers for the state wrestling meet, he coached through his last practice. It was his last official act as wrestling coach at Granite City High.

The following day, Schmitt, his assistant coaches Walt Whitaker and Larry Carl and his state qualifiers, trekked up to Champaign for his last state meet as a coach. He's been there before, coaching wrestlers in each of his 38 years as coach, the last 35 at Granite City.

Then at the state meet, BOOM. Each time one of his grapplers took to the mats, it could've been the last time he made an official appearance as the Warriors' legendary coach.

With each of his wrestlers' imminent losses, the curtain closed a little more on the illustrious career of the man who made Granite City and high school wrestling in Illinois synonymous.

For Schmitt — not a sentimental man — when the moment of his last last arrived, he approached it casually.

He showed no outward feelings when 98-pound Jeff Cotter placed sixth in the state meet.

For Schmitt, the final moment came silently and without much fanfare.

He escorted Cotter, his final wrestler, through the cool confines of the concrete tunnel of the Assembly Hall, leading back to the wrestlers' locker rooms.

Somewhat it didn't seem right that Schmitt and Cotter, for that matter, should end their high school careers with a loss. A miscarriage of justice.

They walked side by side. Cotter with his warmpups leisurely tossed over one shoulder and Schmitt's arm over the other, fatherly-like, leading down the tunnel way.

When they arrived to the spot where Cotter would veer off to the locker room, the two paused for a moment.

Schmitt offered to buy a soft drink. Cotter responded with "a Pepsi, coach."

But this vending machine offered another brand. "I'll get you one from upstairs," Schmitt said.

"No that's alright. I really don't feel like a whole soda anyway. Thanks anyway," Cotter said.

They parted. Schmitt pivoted to the waiting media and Cotter to the bowels of the Assembly Hall, into the locker room for a shower.

Now that the moment had arrived, Schmitt was typically Schmitt. He chose to say little of himself. Instead, he praised his wrestlers.

"Wrestling is not for the coaches. It's for the kids. They say 'Schmitt has done this, and Schmitt has done that.' But that's not the case. The kids have done it. They've done it all. You ought to be talking to that guy," Schmitt said pointing in Cotter's direction.

Typically Schmitt. If he had his way only the athletes names would be in the newspapers.

He continued talking about his wrestlers... It was apparent that Schmitt preferred not to blow his own horn, so here goes.

Here's my attempt. Now 63, Schmitt has accomplished more than any other high school wrestling coach. More than any other.

How's that for openers? This year he got his 602nd career win in dual meets. It came against Cahokia. No other coach in the nation can say that.

And Schmitt's accomplishments have not gone unnoticed. He was selected National High School Wrestling Coach of the Year and, what he considers his most prestigious honor, he was named National Wrestling Coach of the Year in 1977. He's the only high school wrestling coach in the nation to have been bestowed that honor.

How am I doing? Not only is Schmitt coaching wrestling, but he is wrestling. He is currently president of the Wrestling Advisory Committee for the Illinois High School Association. It's the governing body of Illinois high school wrestling.

It was Schmitt who instituted the passage of the overtime criteria, which allows a referee to make a decision on the winner should a bout be tied after an overtime period, and the recently instituted team championships. Both items are forming the future of Illinois state high school wrestling.

And, he says, despite retiring from coaching, the IHSA Advisory Board has asked him to stay on as its president.

They must really think a lot of him, huh. A future Grand Marshal?

A superior idea! Schmitt's accomplishments on the mats are equally impressive, beginning as long as 47 years ago when he wrestled at Alton High School.

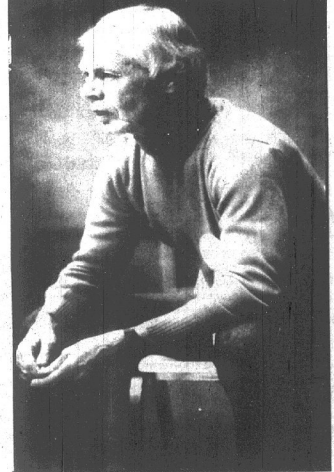

Schmitt said he preferred wrestling because it enabled "even the little guys" to compete. He was a 112 and 115 pounder. "Wrestling isn't just for the big and strong."

No, it's not. "It's for nearly everyone. The fans, the public and most of all, the wrestlers. They mean the most. Not the coaches," Schmitt said starting to edge away from reporters.

"But, I'll tell you what. I'm gonna be doggone sure I make the 98-pound awards ceremony," he said thinking of Cotter and taking another step before stopping.

He bent over and picked up a penny that was laying in his path. Depositing it in his pocket he spoke a last time.

"Hey, that's good luck. This must be my lucky day," he said before disappearing down the tunnel.

State wrestling: GCHS' Cotter finishes sixth

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

of the Press-Record

CHAMPAIGN — The time had come to talk. With three reporters huddled around him, Granite City High School Wrestling Coach Bill Schmitt was ready to address the media.

Schmitt had just coached his last high school wrestler. Jeff Cotter, the Warriors' little dynamo and two-time state qualifier, had made his last appearance at the state meet.

Somewhat it didn't seem right that Schmitt and Cotter, for that matter, should end their high school careers with a loss. A miscarriage of justice.

They walked side by side. Cotter with his warmpups leisurely tossed over one shoulder and agine he has more first period falls (pins) than anyone I've ever had."

EXPLAINING, Schmitt said Cotter is virtually a victim of his own mat success.

"The guy practices his butt off all week long only to go in and pin his opponent in the first period. He's not getting the competition back home that he is up here. Not that day-in-day-out tough competition that you need to beat the really good wrestlers. The wrestlers from up north. So, that makes it tougher for

"I've said it before and I'll say it again. The northern Illinois wrestlers always seem to be one move ahead of ours. We're one move away. That may mean one or two points, but more often it means the difference in a win or placing."

(Arlington Heights) 8-4 in overtime for fifth place. Cotter, who did not place last year, finished sixth in this year's 48th Annual State Wrestling Tournament Saturday afternoon.

FOR SCHMITT and his wrestlers, the tournament was over. That being the case, he felt he could now talk freely. Words flowed from the lips which were not too long ago tighter than a well-executed Half Nelson.

There was praise for Cotter, some criticism of officiating and some thoughts about coaching his last match.

"I know he's disappointed. We're disappointed, but we're also proud of him," Schmitt said of Cotter. "I felt that the (backing out) call may have been a little unjustified, but up here there's no court of appeals," Schmitt said.

SCHMITT was referring to a call which awarded a point to Ducato with 16 seconds remaining in regulation time. The point tied the score at four and sent the match into overtime where Ducato ultimately won.

"I've heard a lot of flak about calls like that which end up favoring the northern kids. And after that one, I'm inclined to agree with that," Schmitt said. "They won't call it one time, but they'll call it the next. Sometimes it's pretty hard to figure out."

Schmitt is president of the Illinois High School Association's Wrestling Advisory Board.

BUT in his diplomacy, Schmitt wasn't going to blame Cotter's loss of the match on the referee. He cited a more practical one, one more believable and one for idealists.

"I knew I'd be a tough road for him to travel and he missed it by a few seconds. But I'll tell you what, he's a darn good wrestler and a fine young man. He's beaten nearly everyone down south. Everyone but (Carbondale's) Eric Wade."

"And they've only met once. The problem is just that he's beaten nearly everyone back home. I im-him up here.

"He's really concerned what people back home will think when they hear that he lost two or three 'up at state.' He's got every reason to be proud. He doesn't have to apologize to anyone."

WHAT THEN did Cotter need to advance further in the state meet? Schmitt had an answer for that one, too.

What he really needs are more Walkers," Schmitt said referring to a hearty type of wrestler. Ironically, though, Walker, the first-place finisher in the Granite City High Sectional, lost his first round match to Sam Geraci, a freshman from Roselle (Lake Park). Geraci won the match 6-4 in overtime. Geraci later lost in the second round and he and Walker were eliminated.

Explaining himself further, Schmitt said wrestlers who wrestle good wrestlers become better wrestlers.

"THAT'S the difference," Schmitt said. They (northern wrestlers) wrestle better, consistent competition and it shows when they get up here.

"I've said it before and I'll say it again. The northern Illinois wrestlers always seem to be one move ahead of ours. We're one move away. That may mean one or two points, but more often it means the difference in a win or placing."

Schmitt said.

As for Cotter, the disappointment of his loss was unmistakably written on his face.

He had such high hopes for placing higher in the state meet. And when it came down for fifth place, he had hoped that his last bout would be a victory.

STANDING in the tunnel leading to the Assembly Hall floor, Cotter nervously bounced on his toes before his final bout.

"I know," he said when asked if he knew he would end his season on a winning note with a victory. "I know all about it." "Coach," he said poin-

Wrestling Meet in Champaign. Cotter easily defeated Gay 21-3 and eventually earned a sixth-place finish in the state tournament.

ting over his shoulder to Schmitt. "And I have talked all about that. I can't lose five matches again this year."

The next is history. Cotter was courageous in his battle, but apparently Decato was more determined.

"He was tough, real tough," Decato said after the match, panting, fighting to get each word out.

"He kept backing out, so they (the referees) awarded me the point. 'I felt like I could come back on him, and when I got the first take down — the 4-1 lead in overtime — I was confident I was going to win.'"

Decato, a junior, ended the season with a 38-7 record.

AS FOR Cotter, his season was far from the disaster that the spunky little senior would have people believe. Aside from reaching and surpassing the 40-match victory plateau, Cotter tied the all-time GCHS single-season record for wins with 42.

His winning efforts matched that of GCHS record holder Doug Wilson, a 132 pounder, who finished the 1972 season with a 42-2 record. Wilson lost his first match of the 1971-72 season and then won 43 straight before losing his second in the IHSA 132-pound state championship.

Meet DeSmet For Title
Skaters go for all the marbles

BRENTWOOD — The "Cinderella" Granite City High Warrior club hockey team will play for the championship of the Mid-States League Thursday night at the Arena. Game time is 8:30 p.m.

They did it. The Warriors pulled their way back from a 4-1 deficit and defeated Parkway Central 6-5 in overtime Saturday night at Quency Park in their semifinal game to advance to the title contest.

While you couldn't call the Cinderella Warriors' opponent in the championship game the "Wicked Witch," the DeSmet Spartans certainly are a fierce foe.

DeSmet, 26-1, slipped past Webster Groves, 5-3, in their semifinal game Saturday. The Warriors and Spartans met once during the season, with DeSmet winning, 7-3.

How did the 24-4 Warriors earn their championship game berth Saturday? We could skip past that atrocious first period, in which the Warriors were outshot, 14-6, and outscored, 3-1. The Warriors only goal was scored by Matt Laub, assisted by Mark Doniff. Let's also skip by the middle part of the second period, when 24-3 Parkway Central added another tally to go ahead, 4-1.

A GOAL by Doniff, assisted by Laub, closed the gap to 4-2 less than a minute later. The goal also turned on the burner, a fire that was kept simmering between the second and third period break. Let's stop here for a moment.

"The kids were pretty confident," Henson said. "They were nice and composed... They knew what they had to do."

They did it, too, shortly into the third period. Chris Carden — assisted by Doniff and Bill Moore — scored to bring the Warriors to within 4-3. Dave Yurkovich tied the contest less than a minute later with a goal. Terry Wade and Steve Stiegelmeier assisted.

LESS THAN three minutes after that, Stiegelmeier, while lying on his stomach, swung his stick at the puck that was centered by Yurkovich. The puck went in to put the Warriors ahead, 5-4.

Parkway Central tied the game at 5-5 with just over five minutes left to play.

Forty-three seconds into overtime, Doniff fired a shot which struck Laub's skate and ricocheted into the net. Victory and bedlam.

Warrior defenseman Dave Wilmouth helped set up the winning goal, drawing a penalty with 11 seconds left in regular time when dragged down on a breakaway. This gave the Warriors the man advantage. Todd Hinterser also assisted.

The next words came laced with pride. Said Henson, "Our kids didn't want to play for third place. We wanted to play for first place. The kids performed well."

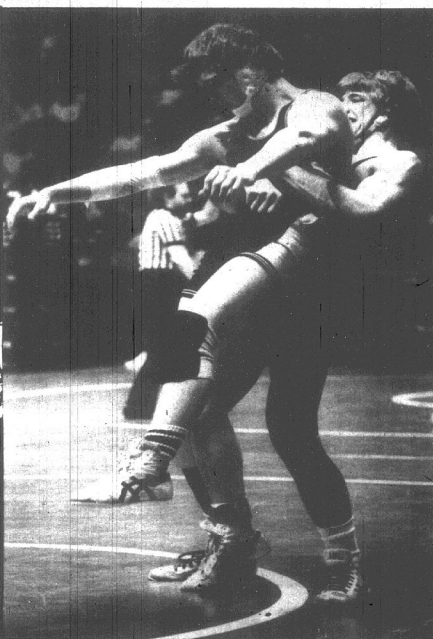

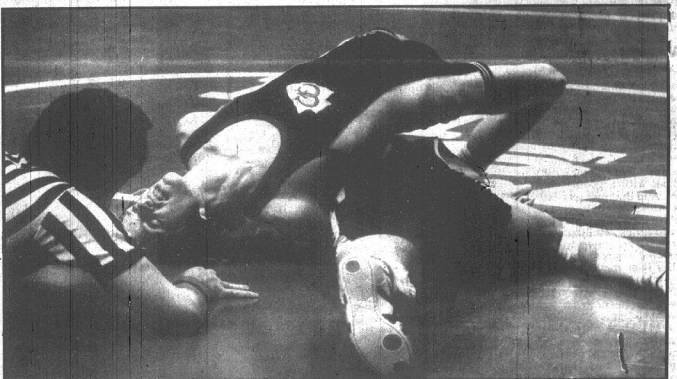

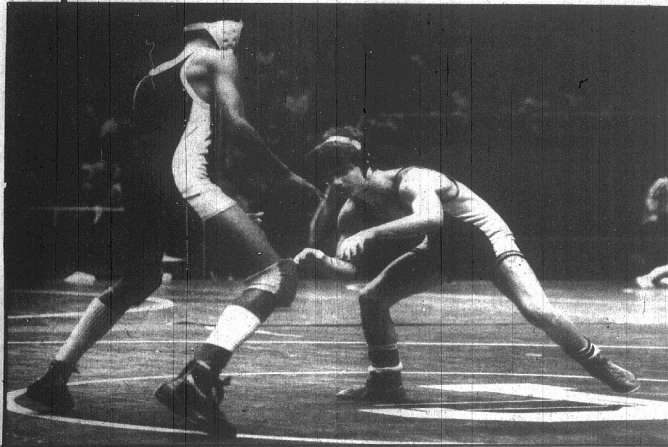

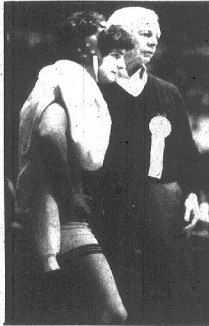

"It's a big win," he said. "A big win for the team. A big win for Granite City."

But Beat Tigers Flyers zap cagers

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

EAST ST. LOUIS — Back on Jan. 6, East St. Louis Senior High School coach Coy Nunn vowed that his Flyers would be a factor in the Southwestern Conference basketball race.

Senior point guard Ernest Taylor had just made his return to the starting lineup after a period of academic ineligibility, and Nunn was all smiles, thinking of the "spoiler" role that his Flyers might play during the final weeks of the regular season.

As it turns out, Nunn's visions weren't just dreams.

AFTER East St. Louis knocked off the Collinsville Kahoks last weekend, the Taylor-led Flyers were set to trip up another Southwestern Conference foe, when they hosted the Granite City Warriors here on Saturday night.

The Warriors entered the contest with a 6-2 conference mark. A win over East Side would assure Granite City of at least a share of the conference crown with the Kahoks, who at 6-3 were idle. But a win over East Side was not what the Flyers had in mind.

Although Nunn was not present (the East Side coach is hospitalized, recovering from a mild heart attack), the Flyers used a ferocious full-court press and smothered Granite City 90-69.

THE WARRIORS held a 19-11 lead at the end of the opening period, but Taylor earned several jumpers from the top of the key and triggered a second-quarter surge that gave East Side a 34-32 halftime edge.

In the second half the Flyers forced countless turnovers and controlled the backboards enroute to scoring 56 points, a total that is three points above the 52.76 average that Granite City had been yielding per contest.

"Our defense hasn't been too good this weekend," said Warrior coach Don Deterding. "We gave up 73 points against Edwardsville (Friday night's 78-73 win) and then 90 tonight. We need to work on our defense next week."

ACTUALLY, for most of the second half, the Warriors didn't get to play much of their feared half-court trap. The reason being that the Flyers scored the majority of their baskets off steals by Taylor and guard Sylvester Harold, who dropped in a game-high 29 points.

But according to Deterding, it was Taylor who did the damage. "No. 10 was darn good. He controlled the whole dagdum game," Deterding said. "Most guards, Joe (Gray) can put in his hip pocket, but not this kid."

"They were too quick for us. And we didn't rebound. We made some mistakes against the press, but in my mind, rebounding was the difference in the ball game."

THE LOSS drops Granite to 5-3 and 15-8 overall. It was the Warriors' third defeat in their last four conference encounters, but they still have a chance to win the Southwestern Conference outright.

If Granite City defeats Alton on Saturday night at home, and Belleville East can stop Collinsville in Friday evening's contest, then the Warriors will win the title. "We aren't going to try anything new or try different personnel," said the Granite City coach. "We just need to regroup — work on our weaknesses that we showed tonight and get ready for Alton."

DESPITE the loss, there were two pluses that came from the East Side meeting. Senior guard Jeff Gray's vacationing jumpshot returned intact, as "Gillee" ripped the nets for 20 points.

Senior forward Kurt Hylla was also impressive. Deterding credited Hylla with playing his "best ball game" of the year.

"He (Hylla) was hustling, he hit some key shots, and he played defense well," said Deterding. "It's the most aggressive I've seen him. I hope it continues."

Venice annihilates Worden Trojans

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

VENICE — David toppled Goliath, Biblical stories say. But then David never had to face the Venice High Red Devils on a basketball court.

The winless Trojans of Worden High, the David in this tale, met a true Goliath in 22-3 Venice Friday night at the Red Devil gym.

While David used a slingshot to bring down Goliath, the Trojans probably would have needed a cannon to silence the likes of Jesse Hall, Darren Wise, Victor Jackson, Charles Milton and Ed Ware.

RED DEVILS' coach Clinton Harris, Jr.'s cast of jam-loving, basket happy delights pruned to a 111-63 victory in their final game of the regular season.

regular season.

The Madison High Trojans weren't so fortunate in their final regular season contest, losing to Teutopolis Friday night, 66-61.

Venice and Madison will be the principle combatants in the Freeburg Class A Regional tournament which gets underway this week. Venice and Madison are seeded No.

1 and No. 2 respectively in the tournament, the first step in the long journey to what each hopes will be a state crown.

AS FOR Worden High, Friday's loss to the Red Devils brings their regular season record to 0-23. They may have lost them all when the baskets were counted, but it's likely they won over a few hearts.

Wrestling

cond pins in a season, finished the season with 43-5 tally.

"IT'S NICE, but I'd rather have finished higher, won it or even gotten third," Cotter said of tying Wilson's record.

"I feel good about the record because I did it at Granite City, a school with a good wrestling tradition. And that means a lot."

Cotter's road to sixth place was not an easy one. In all, he wrestled seven times, winning four and losing three. The divisional champions wrestled just four times.

His first match, at 4 p.m. Thursday, was a runaway. He demolished William Gay of Rock Island 21-3 in the preliminary round before beating Reggie Fleming of Chicago (Orr) 11-4 in the first round.

IT WAS in the quarterfinal round where Cotter experienced his first setback. Trailing Bensenville (Fenton's) Ben Morris by three, 6-3, in the second period, Cotter rolled to his back and Morris was able to pin him in 3:13. Morris, a third-place finisher in last year's meet, went on to finish second in this year's competition.

In the consolation wrestlingbacks, Cotter made waste of Wheeling's Neil Kohlberg (a 5-4 decision) and Sterling's Ryan Hager (a 13-6 decision) before losing his last two.

IN THE semi-final wrestlingbacks, for third place, Elmhurst (York's) Jaime Flores trailed Cotter throughout the match. Then with 13 seconds remaining, Flores managed a reversal of Cotter and earned a one-point 5-4 victory.

The story was the same against Decatur for third place. Cotter earned an early lead only to relinquish it in the overtime period.

For Richie Wilson and Steve Knogl, the other Warrior state qualifiers, the state tournament was considerably less lengthy.

Wilson, a sophomore at 105 pounds, lost his first match-up — in the preliminary round — to Rob Eiler of Arlington Heights (St. Viator) 13-5. Wilson was then eliminated from possible wrestling-back competition when Eiler was pinned by Sycamore's Joe Herrmann in 5:16 in the first round.

"HE DID a pretty good job of working my arms," Wilson said Thursday after losing to Eiler. "I just couldn't block him because he had my arms tied up."

"If I had to do it again, I would have tried to keep my arms away so he wouldn't be able to tie me up."

As for Knogl, his exposure to the state meet was a lesson in good health. Battling bronchitis as well as the medicines he was taking for the ailment, Knogl also lost his first-round match, a 10-5 setback to Roger Poffenberger of Wheeling.

"NO GAS," Knogl said gasping for air in the tunnel after his loss.

The bronchitis?

"Either that or the medication. The decongestants or the antibiotics.

No gas," Knogl said. "Despite losing, Knogl was right about one thing."

"He's good, but he won't advance. He's not good enough. I just wish I was feeling better," Knogl said.

He was right. Poffenberger lost his next match to Chris Gilliam of Champaign (Centennial).

"I'm glad I made it this far," Knogl said. "It's something I'll always remember."

MAJ MEMOS: Kip Kristoff, the 145-pounder from Civic Memorial (Bethalto), won his third state championship Saturday night by defeating Ron Bednarczyk of Chicago (Marion). Kristoff had formerly won titles at 98 pounds in 1982, 112 in 1983 and finished third at 126 pounds last year.

One final note on the Warriors: Granite City, by virtue of their regional team championship and their second-place finish in the sectional were named as an All-State Honorable Mention by "The Grappler" Magazine. The Warriors were one of 17 teams receiving honorable mention status. Roxana, the runner-up City in the Collinsville Regional, was also listed as an honorable mention.

Hartigan calls for summit meeting on farmers' plight

Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan is urging Governor Thompson to convene a statewide summit to address the devastating agricultural crisis which is plunging Illinois farmers into financial ruin and driving them off the farm in alarming numbers.

Neither the national government in Washington nor state government in Springfield is responding sufficiently to the worst threat to farmers since the Great Depression," Hartigan said in an address to members of the Grain and Feed Association of Illinois at its convention in Peoria.

The Attorney General called on the governor to use the authority and prestige of his office "to bring together key state officials, the Illinois congressional delegation, leaders in the farming and agribusiness communities, financial authorities and leaders in agricultural education to consider answers to this most critical problem."

Hartigan continued, "I don't have an answer to the crisis, nor, apparently, does anyone else. But if we can bring together the best minds in this state, we can explore the problem and find the answers for Illinois."

"Agri-business is the multi-billion dollar backbone of our Illinois economy," Hartigan went on. "Farmers and agri-business have built this state, laid the foundation for our industrial strength and paid taxes to erect the infrastructure of this state."

"It is absolutely essential that state and national leaders from Illinois make the farm crisis our number one priority. This is a time of farm failures, mortgage foreclosures and economic conditions so desperate that some farmers do not even have the resources necessary to put in their crops this spring," he said.

Hartigan praised State Treasurer James Donawald's recently announced program to place state funds in rural banks so farmers will have adequate funds to put in their crops. He also commended the General Assembly for enacting the 1983 Grain Insurance Act that protections farmers in the event of grain elevator failures.

"This kind of action at the state level demonstrates that when farmers have a need, state government is capable of providing assistance," Hartigan said.

"That is why I am urging the governor to go a step further and convene a summit. There may well be additional steps that Illinois can take to help ease the crisis presently threatening the core of the state's economy," Hartigan concluded.

Two hearing slated on 1986 human services plan

Public hearings on the 1986 Human Services Plan of the Illinois Department of Public Health, will be conducted on April 2, from 1 until 4 p.m., in Chicago and Springfield.

According to Thomas B. Kirkpatrick Jr., director of the state health department, "The Human Services Plan complements the budget of the state health department, and will be used in applying for the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC); The Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP); the Preventive Health and Health Services and the Maternal and Child Health services block grants."

The plan contains information on program of the Illinois Department of Public Health, including a description of the need for each program, an assessment of program effectiveness, objectives, descriptions of proposed activities and legal mandates.

Kirkpatrick is encouraging the public to attend the hearings and to present either written or oral comments about the department's program plans.

The Human Services Plan will be available for public viewing and copying beginning March 1. The document may be viewed and copied at depository libraries throughout the state and at the state health department's regional offices located in Rockford, Peoria, Springfield, Edwardsville, Marion, Champaign, West Chicago and Chicago.

Persons interested in more information, or handicapped persons who need special arrangements or accommodations in order to attend the hearings, should contact the Office of Health Planning, 535 West Jefferson, Springfield, Ill. 62761, telephone 1-217-785-2040. The hearings will take place in the State of Illinois Center, 100 W. Randolph Street, 4th floor, Suite 600, Room 654, Chicago; and at the Illinois Department of Public Health, ground-floor conference room, 525 W. Jefferson, Springfield.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT

DREW KARANDJEFF
PRESIDENT
Central Bank

Q: It seems that it's getting more difficult to open a checking account, and that checking account fees are going up. Why is this?

A: The major reason for increased difficulty in some areas, as well as increases in checking account charges is crime. More and more banks are now forced to run background investigations on customers wishing to open accounts. It is also estimated that banks across the country have closed more than 40,000 accounts per month where investigations indicate that the person who opened the account was deliberately attempting to either defraud or misuse the account by habitual overdrafts. The names of such persons are published on alert lists which signal other institutions of their past problems. These persons will, of course, have difficulty in opening an account elsewhere. As in many cases involving crime, the cost is usually born by the innocent. Banks, however, are keenly interested in protecting their customers, and one way is to be vigilant against such practices.

Granite 650 names chapter sweethearts

Wanda MacDonough, worthy matron of Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, during a regular meeting of the chapter announced Orvin and Isabel Diekmann were chosen as chapter sweethearts.

They were escorted to the East where the worthy matron and Worthy Patron William MacDonough officially crowned the couple and presented each with a cape to wear during the evening.

A red and white needlepoint mail box was placed in the West where Associate Matron Shirley Schwendemann selected numbers from letters in the box. She was assisted by Associate Patron Jack DeCoursey in "delivering" gifts to Ruth Cox, Mrs. Diekmann, Shirley DeCoursey, Earl Potter, Betty Kelson, Jimmy Fox and Mary Petrosian.

During the session Virginia Johns visited the birthday bank.

Miniature crocheted hearts were given to each one present by the worthy matron.

It was announced that Jerry and Bonnie Fisher were married 50 years and flowers were sent on behalf of the chapter. Mrs. MacDonough extended appreciation to Mary Hoover for her assistance in the preparations for the chapter anniversary.

The coin collection was donated to the American Heart Fund and the chapter members also voted to donate their public address system to the temple house.

Mrs. MacDonough read a poem entitled, "My Snow Prayer," and then presented two grand lectures, six past matrons and four past patrons who were then escorted to the East. Also introduced were Worthy Matron Linda Potter and Worthy Patron Earl Potter of Bethalto.

After the meeting a video tape of the installation of officers was shown in the dining room on a television set. Members received the 1985 birthday calendars from Associate Matron Schwendemann and it was noted that the O'Fallon chapter advice night will be conducted at 1 p.m. on March 2. Mrs. Schwendemann will serve as organist at the event.

A Valentine heart motif was used for the table appointments and refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

Homemakers launch membership drive

"Color Your World — Join HEA" is the theme for the 1985 Homemakers Extension Association membership drive. The drive was kicked off at a luncheon in Edwardsville last week.

Membership chairmen from the 28 county units, district vice chairmen and county HEA board members attended the program, which set the goal to boost Extension membership from the present 915 to 1,015.

The association offers programs in home economics and related topics to interested persons rural and urban, regardless of race, color, sex, national origin or religion, as a service of the University of Illinois.

Martha McIlvoy of Granite City, county membership chairman, formally opened the membership drive for those attending and presided at the noon luncheon. The goal is a 10 percent increase in membership in each unit.

The speaker, Dr. James Oliver, regional director of University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, has as his topic "Why Stop Now?" He stressed that Madison County HEA started in 1936. Its success was due to program diversity and the total involvement of its members. Oliver stated that this essential organization has these essentials: belief in the organization, a knowledge of the group's goals and taking action. He went on to say that the toughest thing about success is that you have to keep on being successful.

Catherine Mauck, Extension adviser, stressed that unit second vice chairmen are the spark plug which move the organization. She went on to outline the programs planned for 1985-86.

Mildred Dresch of Alhambra, state membership chairman, encouraged the units to gain new members in all categories, especially younger people.

Mrs. McIlvoy explained that units are competing for honors in obtaining the most new members for the calendar year. Winning unit membership chairmen will receive an all-expense paid trip to the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation's annual meeting at the University of Illinois campus in Urbana-Champaign. Units with 10 or more new members will be judged winner units.

Second child arrives for Mr., Mrs. Stone

Nicole Lindsey is the name selected by Mr. and Mrs. Steve (Robin) Stone, 228 Holiday Mobile Home Park, for their second child born Feb. 21 at Oliver Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

The new arrival weighed 6 pounds, 8½ ounces. She has a 3-year old brother, Justin Richard.

Grandparents are Donald Stone, St. Louis, Rosalie Underwood, Collinsville, Lula Youngman, Granite City, and the late Donald Youngman.

Great-grandparents include, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Evans of St. Louis, and Bertha Leonard of Carbondale, Ill.

Opti-Mrs. honor birthday members

Hostesses for the February luncheon meeting of the Noon Day Opti-Mrs. club held at Charlie's Restaurant were, Mrs. Charles Meyer, chairman, Mrs. Douglas Little and Mrs. Merl Jennings.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Victor Anderson, the business meeting was conducted by the vice-president, Mrs. David Parrish. Mrs. Meyer led the group in reciting the Lord's prayer and the club creed was also read in unison.

Mrs. Wilbert Engleke, membership chairman introduced a guest, Mrs. Jerry Swatling. Members sang "Happy Birthday" to those sharing birthdays in January and February: Mrs. Maurice Dailey, Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. David John and Mrs. Parrish. The Opti-Mrs. were guests of the Optimist organization at a Valentine's Day party in the Weisman room of St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Each lady was presented with a corsage and after the dinner were entertained by students from the Salem dance studio.

Announcement was made of the pancake and sausage breakfast on March 10 sponsored by the Optimists in the Harold Brown Recreation Center.

Mrs. Merl Jennings read a note from a former student nurse, Mrs. Cheryl Pelate with a picture of her husband and son enclosed.

Prizes for the games, played after the meeting, were awarded to Mrs. Lawrence McCauley, Mrs. Maurice Dailey, Mrs. Elmer Branding, Mrs. Irtzy Todd and Mrs. Engleke. Others attending were Mesdames Leonard Bickel, Norman Hall, John Kirchoff, Lawrence Melvin, B. C. O'Neill, Alfred Pope, Carl Ranft, Carl Roach, Ernest Veihl and Wallace Wyman.

Ellen Cardin to take dream trip

Five year old Ellen Cardin of Granite City will realize her dream to visit Disney World in Florida, as a result of arrangements completed by The Dream Factory members.

The youngster has been crippled since birth and will visit the southern resort with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cardin. They plan to leave St. Louis Lambert Airport on March 10.

According to the youngster's grandmother, Marilyn Thomas she believes this is the first child that is not terminally ill to receive such a trip.

All trips and "dreams" of other recipients have been offered only to those who are terminally ill.

Nicholas Gaines marks birthday

Nicholas Ryan Gaines celebrated his second birthday at a party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brian (Christine) Gaines at their Granite City home.

Highlight of the party was a bouquet of balloons delivered to the guest of honor by a clown from Balloon and Flower Boutique.

After the youngster opened his gifts the hosts served refreshments to great-great-grandmother, Marie Ziegler of Madison, great-grandparents, Lillian Wessman, Eadyne Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Leimkuhler, all of Granite City, and grandparents, Dolores Gaines, Granite City, and Mr. and Mrs. Owen (Margaret) Rollberg of Millstadt.

Other guests included David Gaines, Becky Gaines, Mrs. Lori Choat and daughter, Lauren and Tara Sander.

A gift was also received from the honoree's uncle and aunt, Scott and Anita Heath and son Adam who live in Okinawa, Japan. Mrs. Gaines and her son, Nicholas, visited the Heath family for three weeks in November 1984.

Natural habitat is Audubon topic

Dr. Harry Kircher was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Southwestern Audubon Society, conducted at the First Federal Savings and Loan, 300 St. Louis St., Edwardsville, last week.

He narrated a slide presentation on natural habitats in nearby areas and others throughout the United States.

Mrs. Ruth Jensen, president, announced a St. Louis speaker will talk on environmental concern at the March 19 meeting to be held at the same Edwardsville location at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend she said.

After the meeting Marilyn Coolbraugh served refreshments to 23 members and guests.

Church Activities

February meetings of Presbyterian women

The Presbyterian Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church attended February circle meetings, last week, on various dates and locations.

Mrs. Ethel Beeler hosted the session for the Morning Circle with Burdine Holtzschler assisting as hostess. There were 15 present and the session was called to order by Circle Chairman Harriet Horn.

Mrs. Cooley gave the Yearbook of Prayer and Lois Daniel offered the Dedication of the Least Coin. The Bi-bible study for the day was given by Ruth Knapp who spoke on the lives of Paul and Peter as narrated in the book, Men of the Bible.

The meeting adjourned with the group repeating the Mizpah benediction. Betty Schmiedake, association president, was a guest for the day.

The Afternoon Circle gathered in the church parlor for its meeting hosted by Mabel Clark and Alvina Halmborg. Bess Henely, circle chairman, presided with 19 members responding to roll call by reciting a Bible verse.

Arlene Fox gave the Yearbook of Prayer and Irene Gray the Dedication of the Least Coin. Helen Stoevers presented the Bible study taken from Men of the Bible choosing Paul as her subject. She highlighted her talk with slides of the region where Paul lived and made his journeys.

Mrs. Schmiedake was guest for the session and joined the members in the Mizpah benediction in closing.

Lillian Howe gave the Yearbook of Prayer and Dedication of the Least Coin.

This group also studied the Men of the Bible with Julia Hunt focusing on the life of Moses. She then played a tape which was a musical version of biblical passages from Moses' life. All repeated the Mizpah benediction in closing.

Lenten services at Methodist Churches

"The Disciplines of Lent" will be the theme of special Sunday evening services beginning Feb. 24 and continuing through March 24. Services each week will be hosted by a different church, with a different pastor preaching. The schedule for these 7 p.m. services follows: March 3 — Trinity UMC, with Rev. Bud Brainerd (assistant pastor at Niedringhaus UMC) as speaker; March 10 — Nameoki UMC with Rev. John Davis (pastor of Good Shepherd UMC) as speaker; March 17 — Madison UMC, with Rev. Jerry Reed (pastor of Nameoki UMC) speaking; and March 24 — Niedringhaus UMC, with Rev. Mike Smith (pastor of Trinity UMC) delivering the sermon.

The public is invited to these special Lenten opportunities for worship, a spokesman for the group said.

Mission and Membership Sunday begins March 3

Catholic Parishes of the Springfield Diocese including the Quad-City area, will observe Mission and Membership Sunday on March 3, according to the Rev. Kevin Sullivan, diocesan director.

Each year over 1000 mission areas of the world receive support from the funds collected on this day. This aid called the "daily bread" of the missionaries provides them with the food, medical care, clothing and transportation needed to carry out their work, Rev. Sullivan explained. Sixty percent of the contributions are distributed among the needy in Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Near East and the remaining 40 percent is given to the poorest mission areas of the United States.

(Pope John Paul II asks each person for a commitment to share in the mission work of the church through prayer and personal sacrifice on this day, Rev. Sullivan added.

Dorcas Group hears Mrs. Myra Parrish

Members of the Dorcas Group of Christian Women's Fellowship of Central Christian Church, met in the home of Dorthea Rivenburgh for study, worship and fellowship. Reports were given on calls made, cards sent, daily devotions and number of books read during the preceding weeks.

Plans were made for the fellowship hour after the Lenten Services that will be held at Central Christian on March 6 and 13.

The Area CWF meeting will be at Centennial Christian Church in St. Louis on Feb. 26 and Central Christian will be represented. Members were urged to attend the CWU World Day of Prayer on March 1 at Madison United Methodist Church. Registration is at 7 p.m. with the program to start at 7:30.

Mrs. Myra Parrish presented Session 2 "The Lord's Prayer" from the study "Prayer a Way of Life." During the worship hour all members participated and the meeting was closed with the benediction.

A dessert course was served by Mrs. Rivenburgh, to Mrs. Parrish, Lumeta Durbin and Vanna Benkigler. The March meeting will be in the home of Lumeta Durbin.

St. Mary's Church Lenten Services

A change in the Lenten Services for St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison, is being announced with the following corrected schedule.

On Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, there will be an 8 a.m. Mass. Wednesday there will be a Mass 6 p.m. and Friday at 6 p.m. there will be the Stations of the Cross and Benediction.

The first Friday of March the service will begin at 6 p.m.

Sunday School campaign at Grace Baptist Church

The deacons of Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., announce a "Five Fabulous Sundays" Sunday School campaign during the month of March. They have divided into five teams and each team is responsible for the program and promotion on each Sunday.

On March 3rd the gospel group, "Cornerstone 33 AD" will be in concert, and on March 10th, back by popular demand, the "Impressions," will perform. Lee Castro known across America as the Gospel Singing Troubadour, and his wife, Kitty, a ventriloquist will appear on March 17th. The guest speaker on March 24, will be Rev. Stan Howlett, who fought former world boxing champion, Sonny Liston to a decision. Rev. Howlett will preach a message entitled, "The Fifteen Round Knock Out." Then on March 31st, special guests will be One Accord. This group has traveled across America and in foreign lands, sharing the gospel in song. There will be special events for the children each Sunday.

John McKinney, chairman of deacons, said he and the other deacons want to extend a special invitation to the public to attend these services. "Our staff, Dr. Bob Jones, associate pastor, Rev. John Gamblin, Minister of Music and Youth, Rev. Nick Popelchak, and secretary, Lovene Parr, are a team who serves the Grace Baptist Church," said McKinney. "The church has good programs and activities for each age group, he added.

All services will begin at 9:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. each Sunday, and a nursery will be provided.

World Day of Prayer service at Madison Methodist Church

The World Day of Prayer service, one of the many programs sponsored by the Quad-City Church Women United, will take place at the Madison United Methodist Church, Fifth and Ewing streets, in Madison on Friday, March 1 to begin at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Host pastor is the Rev. Vernone Brown and Mayne Vallow will be serving as host chairman for the celebration.

The 1985 service was written by Christian women of India on the theme "Peace Through Prayer and Action." The authors used India's national flower, the lotus, which grows in still waters and is rooted in earth, to symbolize the struggle of earth's people who through prayer and action strive for peace within themselves and society.

A special children's service seeks to build bridges of understanding and bring a new awareness of life in India to young people of the world, according to the chairman.

She added, "through Christianity that came to the Asian country early in the first century, today Hinduism and Islam are the dominate faiths and Christianity claims only 2.6 percent of the population."

Mrs. Ola J. Jones, president of Church Women United, explains that this celebration signals the 98th observance of the worldwide prayer witness for peace. Celebrated by women of faith in 170 countries and regions around the globe, this interfaith event calls people everywhere to pray for world peace and commit themselves to become personally involved in peace building as individuals and families within their communities, their nations and the world.

International in scope the World Day of Prayer is conducted each year in more than 5,000 communities in the United States, under the sponsorship of Church Women United, Mrs. Jones commented.

County ratifies 3-year contract with Teamsters Local 525

By JIM WOODCOCK
A contract proposal from Teamsters Local 525 was unanimously approved by the Madison County board last week, ending several months of negotiations. The contract proposal was accepted by the Teamsters' membership earlier after it overwhelmingly rejected the county's final offer.

TEAMSTERS were given pay increases totaling 78 cents per hour over three years. However, the county will no longer pay for 100 percent of each union member's medical plan.

Union members settled on paying 20 percent of their health insurance packages, including a $200 deductible.

ble. Teamsters did not have to pay a deductible in the past.

The new agreement is for three years and is retroactive to Dec. 1, when the old contract expired. The county board approved the contract following a 30-minute closed session. County board negotiating committee chairman Herbert "Junior" Milton said he was pleased with the terms of the new pact.

LOCAL 525 bargains for 25 county highway department workers and two animal control employees. Union members originally demanded the county continue providing full paid health insurance packages.

Teamsters will be given a 10-cent raise during the first year of the contract and 34-cent raises during each of the following years.

The county agreed to pay $35 per week for insurance the first year, $40 per week the second year and $44.50 per week the third year.

Insurance premiums are currently $39.50 per week. THE CONTRACT will cost the county $63,477 over the three years. Milton said the contract is comparable to the new pacts recently awarded to the county's other two unions.

The bargaining sessions, at times, were strained. A federal mediator was brought in during December to stimulate talks, but both sides remained far apart on the issues heading into 1985.

The union later threatened to strike if it didn't receive fully paid health insurance with its new contract.

AFTER THE county tendered its final offer in January, the union filed an unfair bargaining procedure complaint with the Illinois Labor Relations Board.

County officials said the complaint will be disregarded now that both sides have agreed to a new contract. In other action last week, the county board:

Amended the fiscal 1985 budget to compensate for employee raises as stipulated by the county's new contract with American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 795.

A personnel fund surplus of $337,953 will be distributed among 25 county departments for raises. The personnel fund was budgeted with extra money in November to compensate for the raises.

—TABLED action on a new wing to the county dog pound until further study is made on its cost efficiency. —Approved the payment of $220,911.06 to sheriff's deputies who accumulated pre-1973 sick day allowances. The pay-out is part of the county's new contract with the deputies' union, Operating Engineers Local 520-C. —Approved a resolution urging President Ronald Reagan and Congress to continue the federal revenue sharing program.

Seminar on treating diabetes with exercise

"Exercise Your Way to Good Health" is the topic of a seminar on diabetes treatment at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 28, at the Madison County Farm Bureau auditorium, 900 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville.

The seminar is free and pre-registration is not necessary. Dr. Peter J. Miller of the Edwardsville Physical Therapy and Sports Medicine Clinic will discuss why exercise can be beneficial to diabetics of all ages by lowering blood sugar levels and assisting diabetics in maintaining better control. It also can aid diabetics who have vascular problems by improving muscle tone and circulation, particularly to the heart.

The presentation is designed to aid diabetics design an exercise routine that is right for them. The Madison County Branch of the American Diabetes Association is presenting the program in conjunction with St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Alton Memorial Hospital and the Madison County Farm Bureau's Women's Committee.

3 firefighters hurt

Three firefighters sustained injuries while fighting a blaze at 1:05 p.m. Saturday at Harry's Paint Store, 1831 State St. Damage was estimated at $25,000 to contents and $10,000 to the building.

Fireman Harrison Mullen suffered an injury and went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was given treatment and later was released.

Also hurt but not requiring immediate medical attention were firefighters Terry Söhre and Jim, Pyle. Details of their injuries were not available today.

Frank Liepmann, owner of the store, told fire officials that he was lighting a kerosene heater when the paper he was using apparently ignited fumes and then materials in the immediate area.

The flames spread rapidly up some open-sided wood shelving and quickly engulfed the room, he reported.

Firefighters remained at the scene for one hour and 45 minutes, a fire department spokesman advised.

Computer expo scheduled at SIUE

Representatives from numerous major computer companies will display their equipment, Tuesday, Feb. 26, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"Computer Exposition: Technology '85" will begin at 10 a.m. in Meridian Ballroom in the University Center. The expo will last until 4 p.m.

THE REPRESENTATIVES will be available to demonstrate software packages and to answer questions. In addition, workshops will be conducted throughout the day.

Admission is free. Prizes from drawings will be awarded. The expo is sponsored by the SIUE Student Program Board and the Educational Computer Network.

For more information, interested persons may contact the SPB at 1-692-2617.

High school physicals given Feb. 27

With winter sports beginning their final leg of the season this week, some people are beginning to think about spring, particularly Granite City High School Athletic Director Greg Patton.

To be sure that the spring sports programs get off on the right foot, Patton has slated Wednesday, Feb. 27, as the day that physical examinations will be given at the high school. The exams, which cost $5, are necessary to participate in spring sports.

Athletes who wish to participate in sports this spring who have not had a physical examination this school year, must attend this session.

The physicals will be given in Memorial Gymnasium, for both boys and girls, beginning at 5 p.m.

VANDALS SMASH WINDOWS

Vandals smashed two windows in a new bedroom area under construction at the home of Robert McMillan, 326 Wilson Park Lane, the homeowner reported last week. An inventory was being taken to determine if any property was missing.

Program focuses on heart attacks

Heart attack and heart disease, a health concern for nearly one out of four American adults, are the focus of a one-hour television special which will be broadcast Wednesday, Feb. 27 at 9 p.m. on KETC/Channel 9, during the American Heart Association's National Heart Month. Jim Lehrer, associate editor and co-anchor of The MacNeil/Lehrer Newshour, hosts the program.

Lehrer—who last December at age 49 suffered a heart attack, underwent double bypass surgery and was back on the air within three months—recalls the stage-by-stage experiences of his ordeal, the symptoms, the attack, the surgery, treatment and rehabilitation.

"Heart attack is a subject of interest to virtually every American," said Al Vecchione, president of MacNeil-Lehrer-Gannett Productions, producers of "My Heart, Your Heart."

Forty-two million Americans, according to the American Heart Association, have some form of heart or blood vessel disease. Vecchione continued, "Jim Lehrer's personal experience last year will be the vehicle for telling the story of how it happens and why, complete with an update on the latest technologies in diagnosis and treatments."

American Heart Association President Dr. Thomas J. Ryan, professor of medicine and chief of cardiology at Boston University's School of Medicine, said, "We urge people to watch this public health program because it provides an enlightening and intelligent look at heart disease and heart attack."

Lawrence Pomeroy, executive producer of the award-winning TV series U.S. Chronicles, is executive producer of My Heart, Your Heart. John Wilhelm, former managing editor of "Science 80" and a past national science correspondent for "Time," is editorial consultant on the program.

East vs. West mat matchup

Two of Granite City High School's State Wrestling Tournament Qualifiers, Jeff Cotter and Steve Knogl, will be among the several Illinois athletes who will compete in the East-West All Star Meet Tuesday, Feb. 26.

Cotter, who wrestled at 98 pounds for the Warriors this season, will represent the East All-Stars at 105 pounds. Knogl will wrestle at 167 pounds, the same weight he wrestled during the regular season.

The annual wrestling extravaganza, which pits the best of Missouri against the best of Southwest Illinois, will be at the St. Ann Boys' Club beginning at 7 p.m. The Missouri team consists of 11 state place winners. The Illinois team consists of the best athletes from teams in the Southwestern Conference, the old Gateway-East Conference and a few independents.

To get to the St. Ann Boys' Club from Granite City, persons should take Interstate 270 west to Lindbergh Blvd. Take Lindbergh south to St. Charles Rock Road. Make a left on to St. Charles Rock Road and follow for about a mile to St. Ann.

Approaching St. Gregory, make a left on to St. Gregory. Follow for one block and make a right on Livingston. The Boys' Club is right there.

SIUE Chamber Orchestra to honor Bach and Handel

Three hundred years is a considerable test of time; the musical compositions, both prolific and profound, of George Friedrich Handel and Johann Sebastian Bach have delighted and inspired audiences world-wide, according to SIUE conductor Robert Schieber.

The University Chamber Orchestra at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will make its contribution to the tri-centenary celebration of the births of these two immortals of classical music in a special concert on Friday, March 8, at 8:15 p.m.

THE CONCERT, conducted by Schieber, will bring together a number of eminent artists: Janet Scott, flute; Sarah Turner, soprano;

John Walsh, harpsichord, and Marcia LaRue, trumpet. Allan Ho, musicologist at SIUE, will offer the commentary and Susan Schnake-Tierney is assistant conductor.

The program will open with Handel's "Concerto Grosso in F" (Water Music Suite No. 1). It will be performed by the string orchestra and a concerto composed of Clarisse Atcherson and Linda Vasey, violins; Nancy Andrews and Laurie Brelje, oboes; Margaret Bumb, bassoon, and Barbara Aebel and John Deherle, horns.

This will be followed by an aria from Handel's opera Samson: "Let the Bright Seraphim," sung by soprano Sarah Turner with trumpet obbligato by Marcia LaRue.

JOHN WALSH, organist and harpsichordist for the Bach Society of St. Louis, will be featured in Bach's "Harpischord Concerto No. 3 in D Major, BWV 1054."

After an intermission, the "Sinfonia No. 4, BWV 1824" by Karl Philipp Emanuel Bach will be performed. The program will conclude with Johann Sebastian Bach's "Cantata No. 215, 'Non sa che sia dolore,'" with soprano Sarah Turner and Janet Scott, flute.

There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited. This is the 34th program of the 1984-85 season presented by the department of music in the SIUE School of Fine Arts and Communications.

EIU summer school to focus on 1990's

"Focus on the 90's: Perils and Possibilities" is the special theme for Summer 1985 at Eastern Illinois University. Summer school will feature its seventh series of Distinguished Visiting Faculty Workshops—all related to the theme.

Selected by an advisory committee of faculty and administrators from nominations from various academic areas, outstanding Distinguished Visiting Professor appointments have been made.

THEY ARE DONALD GILL, Fred Schroeder, Harvey Sterns, Larry DeLorme, Robert Ferrell and Jessie Foster. All are scheduled to teach week-long workshops. In addition to teaching assignments, each visiting faculty member will present a public lecture performance, "providing students, faculty and community an opportunity for cultural enrichment through a summer lecture series," according to Dr. Charles Switzer, Director.

Highlighting the summer program will be the visit by Gill, former chief state school officer, state of Illinois, and recently appointed to a chair in education at Stetson University. He will direct a workshop and conference June 18 to 21, on the effective school. In addition to Gill, a number of nationally known educators will participate in the program.

Schroeder, director of Humanities Program, University of Minnesota, Duluth, and president of the American Culture Association, will teach a workshop, June 24 to 27, on problems in the historical study and interpretation of American Culture, specifically dealing with five mysteries of the 1890's in American culture.

SCHROEDER'S VISIT will be in conjunction with Charleston's sequentennial celebration. Sterns, Director, Institute of Life Span Development in Gerontology, the University of Akron, will teach a workshop, July 8 to 11, on the aging individual in a changing environment—looking to the future. DeLorme, Chairperson, department of History, and associate in the Canadian Studies Institute, Western Washington University, will teach a workshop, July 15 to 18, on Canadian Studies.

Robert Ferrell, Professor of History, Indiana University and nationally recognized authority in diplomatic history, will teach a workshop, July 22 to 25, on American foreign policy, past, present and future.

POTTER, a nationally recognized educator, lecturer, writer and counselor on human sexuality, marriage and relationships, and an adjunct professor at the Illinois Medical School and Northwestern University Medical School, will teach a workshop, July 29 to Aug. 1, on human relationships and sexuality.

Personal finance course set at BAC

A "Personal Financial and Estate Planning" course is being offered by Belleville Area College, in cooperation with Illinois State University and Roger J. Lowery, of C.L.U. and Associates, Northwestern Mutual Insurance.

The class will meet from 7 to 9:45 p.m. on five successive Thursday evenings beginning Feb. 28 and ending March 26.

CLASSES WILL include discussion of wills, joint ownership, personal insurance needs and coverage, setting and implementing personal financial goals, investment sources and uses of trusts. The instructors will be bank and trust officers from the Magna Group of financial institutions, Lowery and a representative of a stock brokerage firm.

The course will be designed to address the particular financial concerns of the students. Before the first class, students will be asked to complete an anonymous personal profile. These will be used by the instructors to tailor their presentations to the expressed needs of the students.

For information, students may call BAC's Adult Basic Education Department, 1-235-2700, extension 272.

SUE to offer mini-courses in history

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer three mini-courses of topical interest during the spring quarter, including Guerrilla Warfare, Modern Ireland, and History and Computers.

Workshop on PMS scheduled at SIUE

An informational workshop on Premenstrual Syndrome (PMS) will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Wednesday, Feb. 27.

PMS refers to the physical and emotional symptoms which may precede menstruation. The session will identify the symptoms and focus on the resources available to help women deal with the condition.

SPONSORED BY Women for Women, a campus organization, the workshop is scheduled in the Redbud Room of the University Center, beginning at 2:30 p.m. The workshop is free and the public is invited to attend.

Dona Schmidt, a psychiatric social worker from the Community Counseling Center in Alton, will lead the presentation.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the office of Women for Women at 1-692-2019.

Free seminar's focus is on black women

"Issues Affecting Black Women" will be the topic of a free seminar Wednesday, Jan. 27, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The seminar will be from 12:30 until 2:30 p.m. in the Oak Room of the University Center. The program is sponsored by the Women's Program Committee of the Student Program Board.

PATRICIA A. Williams, a member of the national women's freeze campaign, Betty Lee, project coordinator for the SIUE Science Awareness Program, Ruth McMillen, a counselor with academic services at SIUE, and Shirley Carlson, assistant professor of historical studies at the university, will conduct the seminar.

For more information about the seminar, interested persons may call Joan Schneckebier, program adviser of the Women's Program Committee, at 1-692-2717.

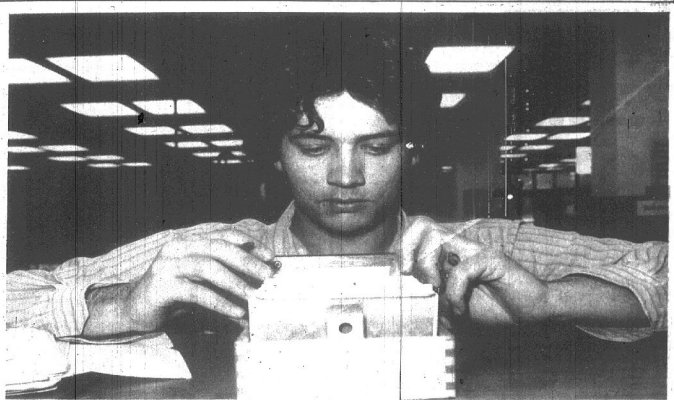

According to Samuel Grant, chairman of the department of historical studies, the courses are designed for students who would like to explore a specific historical topic in a brief but intense period of study. There are no prerequisites.

MODERN IRELAND (HIST 300, Sec. 1) will place emphasis on Ireland during the 19th and 20th Centuries, as well as include a review of the origins and development of Irish history from the coming of the Celts. Discussions will examine closely the relationship between the Irish people and the English government as well as social and religious problems within the country. Particular attention will be given to the Great Rebellion of 1798, the struggle for emancipation, the famine, the Easter Rebellion, struggle for independence and the establishment of the Irish Republic. Classes meet Mondays from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m.

GUERRILLA WARFARE (HIST 300, Sec. 2) will survey the role of guerrillas and other irregular forces in world history. The focus will be on the post-World War II period, but some attention will be paid to earlier guerrilla movements, including the American Revolution, the Napoleonic Wars, the Civil War, insurgents in the Philippines and partisans in World War II.

STUDENTS WILL be expected to select a particular movement and

Washington University to increase tuition by 6.5%

Washington University in St. Louis will increase fees for tuition, room and board 6.5 percent for the 1985-86 academic year — its smallest increase in eleven years and one of the lowest among the major independent universities in the nation.

Combined fees for 1985-86 total $12,779, as compared to $12,194 in the current year. Tuition alone will increase 6.98 percent from $8,600 to $9,200. Board costs will increase to $1,677 from $1,628, an increase of 3 percent. Room rates will climb to $2,104 from $1,966, an increase of 7 percent.

CHANCELLOR WILLIAM H. Danforth said the low increase reflects the "progress we have made in energy conservation and through innovative management of university resources. By assigning responsibility for administrative costs to each operating unit of the university, we have been able to control the rate of cost increases."

"Close supervision of university funds and resources ranks us among the lowest for increases in costs in recent years," said Robert Benson, associate vice chancellor. Among the 53 leading independent universities in the nation, Washington University ranks 67th in rate of increase of costs over the past three years.

The 1985-86 increases are applicable to undergraduate students enrolled in the academic areas of arts and sciences, architecture, business and public administration, engineering and fine arts. More than half of the 4,500 undergraduates receive need-based financial aid at Washington University.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED Attorney At Law

A police officer must have "probable cause" to arrest a person for driving under the influence of an intoxicating substance. Probable cause has been defined as a reasonable basis for believing that the person behind the wheel was driving a car while under the influence of alcohol. Requiring a police officer to have a reasonable belief that the offense has been committed means that a patrolman cannot stop a vehicle at random for no apparent reason and charge the driver with a DUI.

What probable cause means in the context of a DUI will become more clear by examining two recent cases. In a 1983 incident, a state trooper came upon a wrecked vehicle. He found an individual in a nearby cafe, and as he was escorted to the squad car, he walked unsteadily. The trooper noticed the odor of alcohol on the man's breath, but the individual denied having driven the car. The trooper charged him with a DUI, and the Court upheld the arrest in that it was felt there was probable cause to believe that the man had been driving the car while under the influence of alcohol.

In a more recent case, a driver was arrested in Peoria County at 8:56 P.M. in July for driving without his headlights on. Once he was stopped for this reason, the trooper then charged him with driving under the influence. The driver's lawyer attempted to show from a weather report that the sun set on this date at 8:30, and that Illinois law allows vehicles to operate without headlights for 30 minutes beyond sunset. This meant that the headlights would not have to be turned on until 9:00 P.M.

The significance of this detailed analysis of time of sunset stems from the fact that if the underlying charge of driving without headlights was thrown out, there was no probable cause to stop the driver and arrest him for DUI. The Court agreed with this reasoning and found that the defendant had been arrested four minutes too soon. Both charges in this case were dismissed.

Some would argue that an intoxicated driver got off on a technicality in this case. The supporters of the requirement of probable cause for arrest, however, note that an officer should not be allowed to stop a man for no apparent reason and charge him with a DUI.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Cities of Granite City, Madison and Venice and the County of Madison have applied to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs for designation as an enterprise zone under the Illinois Enterprise Zone Act.

The proposed zone area includes the corporate limits of Granite City which lie in the southern portion of the city; the corporate limits of Venice which lie in the northwestern portion of the city; the corporate limits of Madison which lie in the central and northern portions of the city; and unincorporated Madison County which lie west and northwest of the city of Granite City. Under the law, the State provides various tax incentives and the applicants provide sales tax credits, property tax abatements, shopsteading and homesteading.

A copy of the application may be reviewed at the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville, Illinois. Written comments may be sent to: Enterprise Zone Program, Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, 620 East Adams, 5th Floor, Springfield, Illinois 62701. Comments must be submitted within fourteen days of the date of publication of this notice.

Missouri warrants cite Madison man

Ralph J. Drennan, 32, whose address was listed at 1419 Fifth St., Madison, was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville last week, following a court appearance in Granite City.

Drennan was arrested in the 4600 block of Kirkpatrick Homes after an officer heard a group of people yelling and cursing each other and saw most of them run from the scene.

Drennan, who did not run, reportedly had blood on his hands and face and initially gave a false name, police said. He was charged with unlawful use of a weapon when a pair of brass knuckles was found in his pants pocket.

Later, Drennan was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment and returned to jail when it was learned that he was being sought on three felony warrants issued in St. Francois County, Mo., police said.

The documents alleged robbery, burglary and armed criminal action, according to Granite City detectives and law enforcement authorities in St. Francois County.

In a court appearance here, Drennan declined to waive extradition proceedings and bond was set at $100,000. He was subsequently moved to the county jail.

Exercise's role in treating diabetes topic

"Exercise, an Important Part of Diabetes Management and Good Health" will be presented Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p.m. by Peter J. Miller, physical therapist, at the Madison County Farm Bureau Building, 900 Hillside Ave., Edwardsville.

The Madison County Diabetes Association is inviting persons with diabetes, supportive family members, friends and diabetic educator to attend.

A display of blood glucose meters and printed materials will be available. There is no admission charge. Additional information is available from 656-8211.

SERVE COUNTY WARRANT, GIVE TRAFFIC CITATION

After appearing before a judge last week, Jerry K. Jordan, 19, of 2116 Milver Ave., was freed upon posting a $200 cash bond. He was arrested in the 2200 block of Madison Avenue on a Madison County warrant alleging failure to pay a fine on a charge of failure to give information after an accident.

Jordan also was charged by Granite City officers with driving while his driver's license was revoked.

RENTED TELEVISIONS, VCRS NOT RETURNED

Kevin Sykes of Rent-A-Center, 3675 Nameoki Road, reported last week that various items rented between Oct. 22 and Nov. 27, to a Madison man have not been returned. An unsuccessful effort was made to recover the property, he said.

Among the missing property were two stereos valued at $550 and $549, three video recorders worth $325, $282 and $325, a microwave oven valued at $250 and two color televisions, both valued at $300.
